City Schools Broke; To Seek New Taxes

Circleville city school system is nearly broke and continued operations next year cannot be guaranteed without more money, Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of schools, told the board of education Tuesday night.

A new tax levy will be submitted to the public at the May primary. Amount of the levy will be considered at special committee and board meetings planned for the following weeks. A final decision is expected to be made at the rescheduled board meeting March 10.

Jacobs explained that the school's expenditures are expected to exceed income by about $140,000 in 1969 if the new levy is not passed.

Increased expenditures for 1969 are necessitated by employment of 10 new teachers to meet increased enrollment.

requirements of a new state law regarding expenditures and the general increase in operating expenses, Jacobs stated.

THE recent 2.8 mil levy passed by city voters permitted the city school system to remain in operations for the current year, the superintendent continued.

Jacobs explained that at the time the new 2.8 mil levy went into effect, old tax levies totaling 2 mills expired. The net increase for the school system was only .8 mill.

Currently the Circleville City School District's expenditures per pupil ranks 161 of 163 city school districts in the state. There are only two school systems that pay less per pupil than Circleville.

Circleville presently spends

$416.63 per pupil for education. The average expense for city school districts is $396.27 per pupil.

In addition to requesting new taxes the board decided to renew three old levies that will soon expire. The three expiring levies total 9.3 mills per dollar of property valuation.

Reason for seeking a vote on all the tax levies at once is to save the public the expense of additional elections, according to Jacobs. Cost for placing tax levies on separate ballots is about $1,600 the superintendent noted.

THE new levies will be the first continuing tax levies in Circleville if they are passed. Under a recent law passed by the Ohio legislature school tax

State Official Blasts Minter Over Welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Raymond F. McKenna, director of research and statistics for the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, issued a statement today challenging the Cuyahoga County welfare director to "tell it like it is."

He directed his statement to Steven A. Minter, who was one of several persons who addressed welfare demonstrators at the Statehouse Monday, accompanying the demonstrators to Columbus from Cleveland.

He outlined steps which he said the demonstrators should take to get more welfare money.

"To tell it like it is," McKenna said, "Minter should have said that Cuyahoga County could raise Aid to Dependent Children grants to 100 per cent as of today. Minter knows that the state has $1 million available now and has had this ready for the past two years to match Cuyahoga County increases to a 100 per cent level."

"To tell it like it is, Minter could have said that House Bill 919 gave Cuyahoga County the resources to meet this increase to 100 per cent. Cuyahoga County has recently passed a welfare levy. The City of Cleveland has passed an income tax, which is estimated to raise $31 to $34 million a year. The resources are there. County commissioners can raise ADC grants to 100 per cent at any time."

"It would be a lot better if Mr. Minter would explain these facts to his people instead of participating in activities that could lead to a serious riot. This has involved him in a low and dangerous form of politics, which has included distribution of obscene and libelous literature and the hanging of our governor and other officials in effigy. It is hardly a place one would expect to find a tax-paid public official as one of the leaders."

Crash Kills Navy Fliers

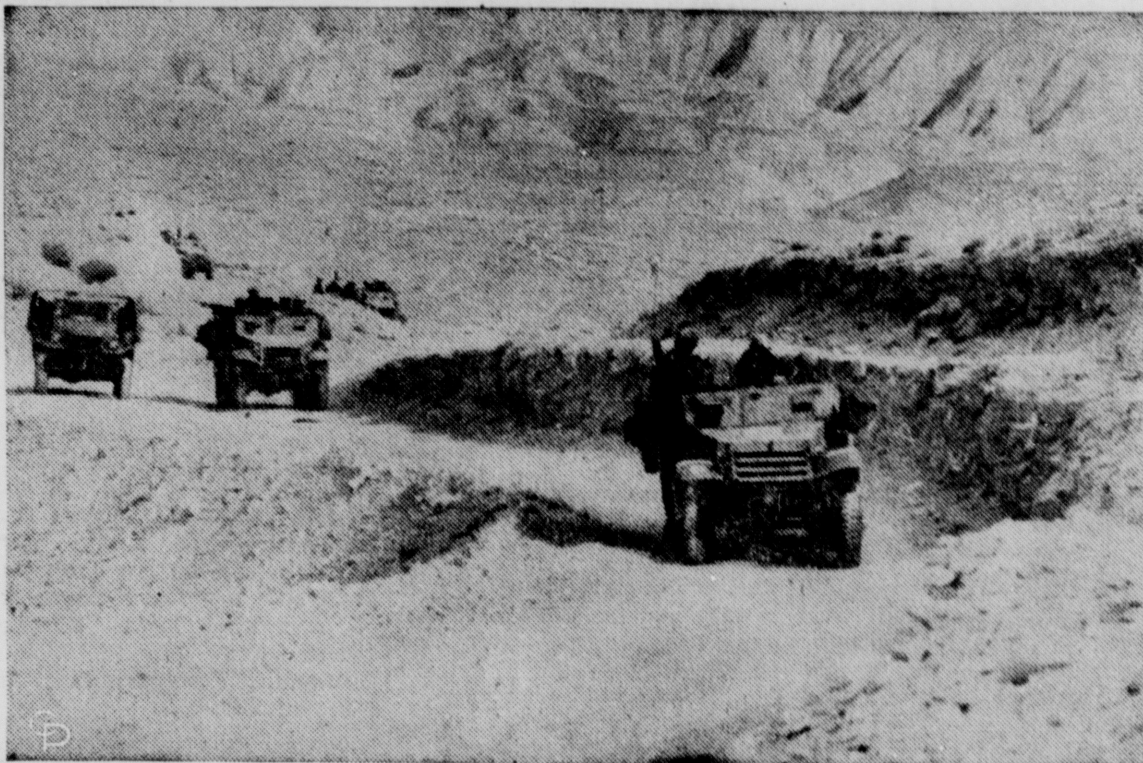

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy patrol bomber crashed Tuesday night in the rugged Santa Ana Mountains near the El Toro Marine Air Station, killing all seven persons aboard.

The victims, not immediately identified, were naval reservists from the Minneapolis-St. Paul area on two weeks of active duty training at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station near Long Beach, the Navy said.

The plane, a Neptune SP2E antisubmarine patrol bomber owned by the Minnesota reserve unit, was being used to practice ground-control approaches at the El Toro base when it slammed into a mountain peak, spreading wreckage over a quarter of a mile area.

Maj. Robert Booher, a Navy spokesman at the scene, said more than 50 searchers from Los Alamitos, El Toro and the Orange County sheriff's office were combing the area 7 1/2 miles northeast of the El Toro station.

Heavy fog hampered the initial rescue efforts, he said.

Israeli, Syrian Jets Duel; Eshkol Wins Knesset Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Israel reported its air force shot down a MIG21 warplane from Syria today and chased another one home after they flew over Israeli territory.

It was the first air battle between Syria and Israel in more than a year. No Israeli losses were reported.

An Israeli spokesman said the two Soviet-built jets crossed the cease-fire over the Golan Heights, which Israel seized from Syria during the 1967 war.

He said one of the MIG pilots bailed out and his plane was seen to crash in Syrian territory.

In Jerusalem, meanwhile, Premier Levi Eshkol's government won an overwhelming vote of confidence Tuesday night from the Knesset, Israel's Parliament, but the premier still was threatened with the defection of one party in his coalition Cabinet.

A no-confidence motion put forward by the nationalist Free Center party was defeated 74-5, but Haim Landau said he and other leaders of the rightist Gahal party would meet to decide whether to withdraw from the government. The withdrawal would not rob the government of its majority, but it would threaten the widespread unity that has been one of the government's biggest supports in the weeks that its policy of retaliation has been under fire from the United States.

The threat to the government resulted from Eshkol's interview with Newsweek magazine in which he said Israel is determined to keep the Syrian Golan Heights and Old Jerusalem but would give up the West Bank territories seized from Jordan if it could station troops along the Jordan River to ensure Israel's security. He also indicated Israel would relinquish the Sinai Desert, taken from Egypt, although it would keep troops at the southeast corner of the peninsula overlooking the Gulf of Aquaba, the southern water route to Israel.

Only Indiana Woman Sheriff Sees No Trouble With Job

VINCENNES, Ind. (AP) — The new sheriff of Knox County says things are going to be just the same.

Except that the sheriff is a woman, the widow of Sheriff Marion B. Youngstafel, who died Jan. 23 midway in his second four-year term.

"My goal is to keep the sheriff's department going on even keel, and not have any upsets," said Sheriff Mary Lee Youngstafel, 53.

The job isn't really anything new to her.

"My husband was in police work 26 years. You can't be the wife of a lawman that long and not have a little of it rub off. I have no qualms," said Indiana's only woman sheriff one week after taking office.

Mrs. Youngstafel was the jail matron while her husband was sheriff, so she's accustomed to searching prisoners.

Although she plays down her reputation as a crack shot, she has won prizes in the women's division of national marksmanship contests. "But that was a long time ago and there weren't many women who entered," she said. "It's been awhile since I've been out on the range."

As sheriff, she will carry a gun "but not where the others carry them."

Rhodesian 'Guilty' In Murder Plot

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, one of Rhodesia's two chief African nationalists, was found guilty today of organizing a plot to assassinate Prime Minister Ian Smith and two top Cabinet ministers.

He was sentenced to six years in jail and said he would appeal. He could have been given the death penalty.

Several small-caliber pistols were among the late sheriff's collection of antique and modern weapons. From them Mrs. Youngstafel chose a .22-caliber automatic to pack in her purse.

Sometimes wearing the two-tone brown sheriff's uniform and sometimes dressed in street clothes, Mrs. Youngstafel will perform most of her work behind a desk.

She supervises 10 deputies who will answer most complaints, patrol the county and make arrests. There has been one emergency already for the sheriff. One of the two women prisoners had to be rushed to a hospital to have a baby.

There have been a couple of burglaries and the new sheriff says she will crack down on shoplifting.

Parents Bring School Protest To Speedy End

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Some students who walked out of Middletown High School were led back to the classrooms minutes later by their parents.

"We had a few calls from Negro parents who found out their children were involved and brought their children back to school," said Supt. Howard Cromwell. "They said they wanted no part of it."

Approximately 100 black students walked out about 10 a.m., protesting what they said was a lack of Negro history in the school curriculum.

More than 250 other Negro students at the school did not participate in the protest.

Abrams Staff Seen Target Of 1 Attempt

SAIGON (AP) — Alert U.S. troops thwarted two attempts by Viet Cong terrorists to blow up busloads of Americans near Saigon's Tan Nhut Air Base today.

As many as 50 officers on the staff of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams could have been killed or wounded in one of the attacks, but no Americans were hurt. The only casualty was a Vietnamese child who was slightly injured.

A few hours before, American forces intercepted about 100 enemy soldiers 23 miles northeast of Saigon and smashed several big rockets on launching pads, apparently aimed at the U.S. Army headquarters at Long Binh.

The enemy activity around Saigon increased speculation that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese might be trying to maneuver into position for another Tet offensive. But U.S. intelligence officers said major enemy forces are not in position yet to launch a significant attack on Saigon although there might be small-scale assaults and terrorist attacks.

Two of the shuttle buses that haul American military personnel around Saigon were targets of the terrorists today. The two attempts took place at almost the same spot near the big air base and within 30 minutes of each other.

The first attempt was made about 6:30 a.m., when two Vietnamese on a motorcycle hooked about five pounds of TNT or plastic explosive attached to a string to the screen window of a bus carrying 50 officers on Gen. Abrams' staff to their offices at Tan Son Nhut.

An unidentified Army major spotted the terrorists at work and alerted Lt. Col. Harold J. Keeling, 41, of Topeka, Kan., who was sitting next to the window. Keeling pulled the hook from the screen and the charge

Snow, Rain Make Up U.S. Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Snow whitened the Great Lakes region today and rain dampened sections of the far west.

Flurries dusted parts of New England, but generally the snow-laden Northeast was spared additional accumulations.

Gales and snow squalls dumped up to 3 inches of additional snow into upper Michigan overnight. Lesser amounts fell on adjacent lake states.

More than an inch of rain soaked areas of central and northern California through Tuesday night. The rain was mixed with snow in eastern portions of the Pacific Northwest.

A new wave of arctic cold rolled across the Plains and Midwest and toppled temperatures into the teens as far south as Missouri. Subzero weather returned to the northern Plains where Bismarck, N.D., registered -11 before dawn.

In the Northeast, major airports resumed operations Tuesday for the first time since Sunday's snowstorm. But much digging out remained to be done in cities and rural areas from New Jersey to Maine.

The death toll from the storm rose to nearly 100, most of them victims of heart attacks while shoveling snow.

Willie Mae Rogers Given U.S. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has named Willie Mae Rogers, director of the Good Housekeeping Institute, to advise the government on ways to expand its consumer-protecting activities.

Miss Rogers reports to the White House today to become a special consultant to the President.

IT WAS one of those bad nights for Bud Brehmer, president of the Circleville Board of Education. First he had to be told to move his car. It was blocking a driveway used by the school buses. "Even my students know better than to park there," quipped Fritz Jacobs, superintendent. Then one of the students had to come in at the middle of the board meeting to tell Brehmer that he had left his car lights burning for the last hour. A brief blush by the board president, and then back to work. But final embarrassment came when Brehmer got into his car to go home and noticed the gas gauge. It read empty.

SEATING arrangements at the Tuesday night board of education meeting were determined by whether or not it interfered with reception on the portable television set used to watch the Ohio State-Purdue game. "Look out Tommy, I can't see. I keep track of the score Bud. Do I have a second for that motion?" "No Sorenson, no. He missed; call the role." "Yes. Yes. No. No. jump, no; what a mess. You're spilling the coffee Tom. Did anyone second the motion? Go, go, go. Vote, vote. Why does the biology department need a $7 Hovvart mouse trap, why not a $9 cent one from the hardware store? Move Fritz, I can't see. Has Purdue second the motion? This is a good mouse trap. All those in favor of Sorenson made it. And so the meeting went. "The team does better when we aren't watching them," stated one of the board members. "And we do better when we are watching them," retorted another.

Bus Driver Frightens Thug

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sam Hornsby, a Cincinnati bus driver, frightened away a hold-up man here today just by reaching in his pocket to get his money.

Hornsby reported the man flagged down the bus in the Walnut Hills area, drew a gun and demanded money.

Hornsby said he reached into his pocket to get the money but the man, apparently thinking Hornsby was reaching for a gun, jumped from the bus and ran.

Change In Plea In Sirhan Case Being Rumored

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Reports circulated today that Sirhan Bishara Sirhan might change his innocent plea to guilty in the gunshot assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Such a change, if it occurred, would result from either an understanding or a firm belief that a life term in prison—instead of death—would be the maximum penalty, the Los Angeles Times reported.

The only likely obstacle would be Sirhan's own refusal to change his plea, the Times said. Sirhan, a slender 24-year-old from Jordan, was described as fearful a change of plea would rob him of the opportunity to publicly air reasons for the assassination.

The Times said Sirhan's defense attorneys huddled with the defendant, his mother, and brother Tuesday to discuss the possible guilty plea.

Speculation also rose Monday night when Evelle J. Younger, Los Angeles County district attorney, said without elaboration in a television interview that the Sirhan trial could take "three months or three days."

Court sources said a change in plea represented one way to drastically reduce the length of a trial that has already consumed nearly six weeks just in making preliminary motions and selecting a jury.

For either a conviction or a plea of guilty to murder in the first degree, the death penalty or life imprisonment is mandatory under California state law.

Defense attorneys were said to pin their hopes for having Sirhan avoid the gas chamber on the argument that his mental or emotional capacity was so diminished as to rule out the degree of premeditation needed to warrant death.

Appeal Hearing Set In Murder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The appeal of John Elmer Woodward, 29, of Lorain, for dismissal of his first-degree murder conviction, will be heard in U.S. District Court here Thursday.

Woodward has been in death row at Ohio penitentiary longer than any other of the 27 condemned men held there. He was convicted Jan. 31, 1964, of the rape-slaying of Mrs. Margaret Van Arsdale, 85, of Lorain County.

Woodward's attorney is asking for a writ of habeas corpus on grounds his client did not receive a fair trial, contending Woodward was denied the right to confront witnesses against him and that all prospective jurors with scruples against capital punishment were excluded.

Report Blames Miami Police For Convention Rioting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police ineptness and a hard-line policy against Negroes were major contributors to the riot that erupted in Miami during the 1968 Republican National Convention, a report to the National Commission on Violence says.

Four persons died in the looting, burning, and gunfire that broke out while the GOP met to nominate a presidential candidate in neighboring Miami Beach the first week in August.

But the commission's task force on Miami, headed by prominent Florida attorneys, Louis J. Hector and Paul L. E. Helliwell, also reported that there was little connection between the convention and the cause of the riots.

Instead, the report said, the violence came about from conditions typical in other big urban areas also struck by racial disorders—"The usual pattern of unemployment and underemployment, poor schools, early school termination, high rent for poor housing, poor health conditions and high incidence of crime."

And these conditions were aggravated by a number of factors, the investigators reported: —Miami's late police Chief Walter Headley's celebrated

"get-tough" news conference of December 1967, resulting in double police patrols and displays of shotguns and fierce dogs in the black neighborhoods. "When the looting starts, the shooting starts," Headley was quoted as saying.

—Failure of the white business community to live up to promises of summer jobs for black youths, and the loss of jobs by blacks to Cuban refugees.

—Attempts by civic officials to woo the Democratic convention away from Chicago to Miami with assurances that the disorders anticipated for Chicago could not happen, or could be easily controlled, in the Florida tourist resort.

"Some black leaders," the report said, "had come to feel that this wide advertisement of their purported passivity, for the purpose of promoting local hotel and tourist facilities, was demeaning to the local black community" and "falsely implied that the black community was content with its economic and social circumstances."

While sharply critical of the Miami Police Department and Chief Headley, the Miami investigators came nowhere near the severe criticism of the police that characterized the controversial Walker report on the Chicago riots during the Democratic convention.

Attorney Daniel Walker analyzed the bloody fighting in Chicago as a police riot.

Also, the Chicago violence was directly connected to the Democratic convention and was basically not racially related.

The Miami report, while finding fault with the Miami police, had high praise for the Dade County Sheriff's Department. It was credited, along with the National Guard, with controlling the riot when the city police had failed.

Miami officials were not available for immediate comment.

The violence commission was appointed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson last June after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. It released the Miami report without approval or dissent. As in his comment on the Walker report, Chairman Milton S. Eisenhower said:

"It has not been systematically reviewed either by the commission or (its task forces). Therefore, its findings and conclusions carry neither the approval nor the disapproval of the commission."

City Schools Broke; To Seek New Taxes

Circleville city school system is nearly broke and continued operations next year cannot be guaranteed without more money, Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of schools, told the board of education Tuesday night.

A new tax levy will be submitted to the public at the May primary. Amount of the levy will be considered at special committee and board meetings planned for the following weeks. A final decision is expected to be made at the rescheduled board meeting March 10.

Jacobs explained that the school's expenditures are expected to exceed income by about $140,000 in 1969 if the new levy is not passed.

Increased expenditures for 1969 are necessitated by employment of 10 new teachers to meet increased enrollment, requirements of a new state law regarding expenditures and the general increase in operating expenses, Jacobs stated.

THE recent 2.8 mill levy passed by city voters permitted the city school system to remain in operations for the current year, the superintendent continued.

Jacobs explained that at the time the new 2.8 mill levy went into effect, old tax levies totaling 2 mills expired. The net increase for the school system was only .8 mill.

Currently the Circleville City School District's expenditures per pupil ranks 161 of 163 city school districts in the state. There are only two school systems that pay less per pupil than Circleville.

Circleville presently spends

$416.63 per pupil for education. The average expense for city school districts is $396.27 per pupil.

In addition to requesting new taxes the board decided to renew three old levies that will soon expire. The three expiring levies total 9.3 mills per dollar of property valuation.

Reason for seeking a vote on all the tax levies at once is to save the public the expense of additional elections, according to Jacobs. Cost for placing tax levies on separate ballots is about $1,600 the superintendent noted.

THE new levies will be the first continuing tax levies in Circleville if they are passed. Under a recent law passed by the Ohio legislature school tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Raymond F. McKenna, director of research and statistics for the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, issued a statement today challenging the Cuyahoga County welfare director to "tell it like it is."

Bus Driver Frightens Thug

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sam Hornsby, a Cincinnati bus driver, frightened away a hold-up man here today just by reaching in his pocket to get his money.

Hornsby reported the man flagged down the bus in the Walnut Hills area, drew a gun and demanded money.

Hornsby said he reached into his pocket to get the money but the man, apparently thinking Hornsby was reaching for a gun, jumped from the bus and ran.

Outstanding Young Farmer Judges Named For Jaycees

The judges who will select Ohio's Outstanding Young Farmer of 1968-69 were announced today.

Named to the panel by Ernie Lindsey, of Circleville, chairman of the Ohio OYF committee were: Frank Sullars, Dr. Thomas Stout and Lloyd Wetzel.

FRANK SULLARS

Frank Sullars, farmer and banker from Washington C.H., Ohio. He is a member of the board of National Insurance and Investment Corp., past president of Ohio Farm Bureau and a past member of the board of American Farm Bureau. Frank was selected Ohio's Outstanding Young Farmer in 1956 and 1967.

Lloyd C. Wetzel is general manager of the Columbus Production Credit Association. Prior to being appointed general manager in 1964, he was assistant to the manager, fieldman, director and member. Before coming to PICA, he was associated with his father in the dairy business. They operated a dairy farm, and milk processing plant with distribution in the Columbus area. During World War II, he served in the Army Air Force. Wetzel resides on a farm near Lithopolis with his wife, Mary Alice, and two sons, Eric and Lloyd Jr.

The dossiers of each of the Outstanding Young Farmers selected in communities throughout the state will be submitted to the panel, and their determination will be announced at the state awards banquet to be held in Circleville on the evening of Saturday, February 15.

A survey of farmers between the ages of 21 and 35 is now being conducted by local Jaycee chapters in Ohio and throughout the nation.

The OYF Program is designed to foster a better urban understanding of rural problems and achievements.

The Outstanding Young Farmers of the 50 states will meet in St. Paul, Minnesota, April 8 - 10 for the national awards program and the selection of the national winners. The national program is co-sponsored by the U.S. Jaycees and Central Soya and its Master Mix Feed Dealers.

The criteria for judging at the local, state and national levels is progress in agriculture, soil and natural resource conservation practices, and contribution to community well-being.

levies will be passed on a continuing basis and not for limited time periods. Under this arrangement after a tax measure is passed it will remain on the books indefinitely without the need of periodic repassage of the measure by voters.

In asking the board committees to come up with recommendations on the school levy by March 10, Robert Brehmer, Jr., president of the board, stated "We must find a way to meet the growing expenses. There is no way that we can cut back now and continue to provide an adequate education for our students."

In other business before the board the resignations of three teachers were accepted. Teachers leaving the city school system are Mrs. Truman Eberly, Mrs. Eleanor Adkins and Miss Mary Walters.

Mrs. Elaine Kurtz was hired by the board to replace Mrs. Eberly. Mrs. Kurtz has been substituting for Mrs. Eberly for the past three months.

Miss Sandra Shaw was approved by the board to replace Mrs. Adkins, who leaves Feb. 28. Miss Shaw, who has no teaching experience, holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Substitute teachers approved by the board were Mrs. Arlene Davis, for biological sciences and physical education; and Miss Joan Vaughan, for grades 1-8 and high school and junior high health and physical education classes.

NEW equipment totaling $1,261 for the biology department and library was approved as was the purchase of two sousaphones for $1,000.

Revisions in the high school student council's constitution were approved and the student council was given permanent standing as a school organization.

Nicholas Drive PTA was granted permission to purchase and install a cyclorama stage curtain at the Nicholas Drive Elementary School.

Salaries for lunch room workers were raised to $1.30 per hour in keeping with the newly established state minimum wage law. The board also approved purchase of a duplicating machine for the S. Court St. School. Cost of the machine is $320.

Reports were delivered to the board on the activity fund, activities of the school nurse and progress of the nongraded program at Corwin St. School.

In final business the board approved participation in a three county bid for general school supplies. Circleville's bids will be placed along with those of Ross and Fairfield Counties.

Ross Memorial Burglarized

The museum-home and concession building at Adena State Memorial in Chillicothe were broken into Sunday night.

Burglars did about $50 in damage by breaking window panes to gain entrance to both buildings, according to Ross County sheriff's deputies.

The burglary was reported Monday morning by the memorial grounds caretaker. Deputies said about 20 old brass and iron keys to the doors of the house were taken from the storage room which the burglars entered by prying open the door to the room. Also taken were several pewter mugs and counterfeit bills.

Footprints outside the building indicated to investigating officers that three men were probably involved.

A U.S. spokesman said if the explosive had gone off alongside the bus and ignited the gas tank, all 50 officers could have been killed or wounded.

The terrorists escaped. Half an hour later, an Army enlisted man saw a briefcase near the right rear wheel of another shuttle bus picking up passengers near an enlisted men's barracks. The men were quickly removed from the bus, and an ordinance demolition team found a bomb inside the briefcase and disarmed it. They said it contained about 12 pounds of explosive with fuses set to explode as soon as the bus moved.

Deceptive Trade Practices Bill Opposed By Merchants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council of Retail Merchants again is lined up against a deceptive trade practices bill.

Last session the council managed to get an identical bill buried in a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

"After its second hearing it was put in a subcommittee and that's where it stayed," John Mahoney, council lobbyist, said. "It was never heard from again."

The bill had its first hearing Tuesday night before the House Commerce and Labor Committee. The council asked to testify against the bill at its second hearing.

The bill would prevent merchants from representing goods

as new if they are deteriorated, reconditioned or used and would prevent merchants from running down the goods, services or business or another by false representation of fact.

The bill provides that a person likely to be damaged by a deceptive trade practice of another may be granted an injunction against it.

The bill's most controversial provision defines a deceptive trade practice as one when a merchant "advertises goods or services with intent not to supply reasonably expectable public demand, unless the advertisement discloses a limitation of quantity."

"I don't think the majority of merchants in Ohio advertise with the intent not to supply," said state Rep. William H. Mussey, R-12 Batavia. "But a merchant could advertise and then run out of his merchandise in an hour."

Mussey, a committee member, said most of the time a merchant doesn't have any idea how many customers will buy a sale item.

"This provision could cause discomfort to many reputable businessmen," Mussey said. The bill's sponsor, Donald R. Fraser R-7 Toledo, said the section was intended to stop misleading advertising.

Frazer said he knew of a case

when a store advertised meat at a very low sale price to get customers into the store, but only had 10 pounds to sell.

First National Bank Elects 1969 Officers

Progress of the previous year was reviewed and increases in deposits and loans were noted at the annual meeting of shareholders of The First National Bank of Circleville. The meeting was held Tuesday in the bank offices.

Prime action before the shareholders was the election of officers. George P. Foresman was elected chairman of the board of directors which includes Dwight L. Steele, Carl C. Leist, John H. Dunlap Jr., Kermit E. Dountz, R. V. Hamman, Jack E. Clifton, Frank A. Gans and Donald E. Hill.

Named as associate directors were Mrs. Estia Tipton, Howard Smith and Clyde Tobin.

Frank A. Gans was appointed president of the bank for the coming year. Other officers named are Roy C. Marshall, vice president; James H. Fosnough, vice president; John E. Fuller, cashier; Pamela Buskirk, Evelyn Kauffeld, Ruth Snyder and Helen M. Sowers, assistant cashiers.

Other staff members of the bank are George W. Hanev, loan officer; Norma Jean Anderson, Delores Bellamy, Marilyn Bowers, Charlotte Browning, Betty Combs, Woody Dumm, Rosemary Dunkel.

Also Susie Hollar, Beverly Ison, Linda Leasure, Barbara Martin, Pat Martin, Betty Miner, Verna Mowery, Joanne Patrick, Marvene Rihl, Pat Sanscrainte, Linda Shimmel, Jean Shockley, Shirley Southward, Lola Taylor and Elaine Thompson.

Mr. Clark, a graduate of Findlay College, has traveled extensively in his evangelistic ministry. He conducts a special half-hour youth program prior to the evening services.

Mr. Powell is a tenor soloist and will be heard in each service. A graduate of Olivet and Pasadena Colleges (Nazarene), he has served since 1951 as pastor, evangelist and singer in the ministry of the church.

YMCA Appeals For Furniture

A special appeal is being made to Pickaway County residents for help in furnishing the new Pickaway County YMCA.

"Since they cannot count on the Circleville Canteen merger, and the use of the Canteen's furniture and equipment, it must look to the community for help," according to Harold Hewitt, executive secretary.

"Our most pressing need at this time is for folding chairs, folding or card tables, some lounge furniture, a television, carpets, refrigerator, a small electric cooking stove and drapes. We are looking for used furniture donated by individuals or perhaps new items donated by club groups or individuals."

The YMCA can also use and needs exercise weights, ping pong tables and pool tables.

Volunteer help is also solicited from groups or individuals wishing to see a full and varied program for the youth and families of Pickaway County.

Anyone wishing to help by donating any of the above items or time, may contact the Y at 474-8621.

Stock Market Near Even

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market leaned to the upside early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 65 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .69 at 948.28.

The Dow industrials alternated between narrow gains and losses in the morning because of a wobbly performance by some of its 30 component blue chips.

Big Three auto stocks were all ahead by narrow margins, but the top four steelmakers were generally lower, with U.S. Steel down a full point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 361.0, with industrials up 1.0, rails up .8, and utilities off .3.

The exchanges returned to their regular 4-hour session after a 3-hour session Tuesday and a closing Monday because of heavy snow which snarled traffic in New York City.

Patient's Death Is Investigated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The coroner will rule in the death of a 58-year-old man who apparently set himself afire accidentally at Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital Tuesday.

The victim, Joseph Walker of Cleveland, had been in the hospital since Nov. 27, when he burned himself on a stove at his East Side home.

A hospital spokesman said Walker was not permitted to have matches, and it was not known where he got the matches that set his sheet and gown afire. The book of matches found beside Walker's wheelchair was not hospital issue, the spokesman said.

Outstanding Young Farmer Judges Named For Jaycees

The judges who will select Ohio's Outstanding Young Farmer of 1968-69 were announced today.

Named to the panel by Ernie Lindsey, of Circleville, chairman of the Ohio OYF committee were: Frank Sullars, Dr. Thomas Stout and Lloyd Wetzel.

FRANK SULLARS

Frank Sullars, farmer and banker from Washington C.H., Ohio. He is a member of the board of National Insurance and Investment Corp., past president of Ohio Farm Bureau and a past member of the board of American Farm Bureau. Frank was selected Ohio's Outstanding Young Farmer in 1956 and 1967.

Lloyd C. Wetzel is general manager of the Columbus Production Credit Association. Prior to being appointed general manager in 1964, he was assistant to the manager, fieldman, director and member. Before coming to PICA, he was associated with his father in the dairy business. They operated a dairy farm, and milk processing plant with distribution in the Columbus area. During World War II, he served in the Army Air Force. Wetzel resides on a farm near Lithopolis with his wife, Mary Alice, and two sons, Eric and Lloyd Jr.

The dossiers of each of the Outstanding Young Farmers selected in communities throughout the state will be submitted to the panel, and their determination will be announced at the state awards banquet to be held in Circleville on the evening of Saturday, February 15.

A survey of farmers between the ages of 21 and 35 is now being conducted by local Jaycee chapters in Ohio and throughout the nation.

The OYF Program is designed to foster a better urban understanding of rural problems and achievements. . . The Outstanding Young Farmers of the 50 states will meet in St. Paul, Minnesota, April 8 - 10 for the national awards program and the selection of the national winners. The national program is co-sponsored by the U.S. Jaycees and Central Soya and its Master Mix Feed Dealers. The criteria for judging at the local, state and national levels is progress in agriculture, soil and natural resource conservation practices, and contribution to community well-being.

City Schools . . .

(Continued from Page 1) levies will be passed on a continuing basis and not for limited time periods. Under this arrangement after a tax measure is passed it will remain on the books indefinitely without the need of periodic repassage of the measure by voters.

Deceptive Trade Practices Bill Opposed By Merchants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council of Retail Merchants again is lined up against a deceptive trade practices bill.

Last session the council managed to get an identical bill buried in a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

"After its second hearing it was put in a subcommittee and that's where it stayed," John Mahney, council lobbyist, said. "It was never heard from again."

The bill had its first hearing Tuesday night before the House Commerce and Labor Committee. The council asked to testify against the bill at its second hearing.

The bill would prevent merchants from representing goods

as new if they are deteriorated, reconditioned or used and would prevent merchants from running down the goods, services or business or another by false representation of fact.

The bill provides that a person likely to be damaged by a deceptive trade practice of another may be granted an injunction against it.

The bill's most controversial provision defines a deceptive trade practice as one when a merchant "advertises goods or services with intent not to supply reasonably expectable public demand, unless the advertisement discloses a limitation of quantity."

"I don't think the majority of merchants in Ohio advertise with the intent not to supply," said state Rep. William H. Mussey, R-12 Batavia. "But a merchant could advertise and then run out of his merchandise in an hour."

Mussey, a committee member, said most of the time a merchant doesn't have any idea how many customers will buy a sale item.

"This provision could cause discomfort to many reputable businessmen," Mussey said.

The bill's sponsor, Donald R. Fraser, R-77 Toledo, said the section was intended to stop misleading advertising.

Frazer said he knew of a case

when a store advertised meat at a very low sale price to get customers into the store, but only had 10 pounds to sell.

First National Bank Elects 1969 Officers

Progress of the previous year was reviewed and increases in deposits and loans were noted at the annual meeting of shareholders of The First National Bank of Circleville. The meeting was held Tuesday in the bank offices.

Prime action before the shareholders was the election of officers. George P. Foresman was elected chairman of the board of directors which includes Dwight L. Steele, Carl C. Leist, John H. Dunlap Jr., Kermit E. Dountz, R. V. Hamman, Jack E. Clifton, Frank A. Gans and Donald E. Hill.

Named as associate directors were Mrs. Esta Tipton, Howard Smith and Clyde Tobin.

Frank A. Gans was appointed president of the bank for the coming year. Other officers named are Roy C. Marshall, vice president; James H. Fosnough, vice president; John E. Fuller, cashier; Pamela Buskirk, Evelyn Kauffeld, Ruth Snyder and Helen M. Sowers, assistant cashiers.

Other staff members of the bank are George W. Haney, loan officer; Norma Jean Anderson, Dolores Bellamy, Marilyn Bowers, Charlotte Browning, Betty Combs, Woody Dumm, Rosemary Dunkel.

Q. I have been ordered to report for induction in two weeks. I would like to take my car with me to the reception or training center. Will this be alright?

A. The Department of Army advises that facilities to care for privately owned vehicles at reception and training centers are limited and there will be little opportunity, if any, for inductees to utilize them. It is also possible that inductees might find it necessary to abandon their automobiles in cases where they are ordered away from reception or training centers and travel by privately-owned conveyance is not authorized.

Q. I have received a II-C deferment because I own and operate a farm, but it's only for one year. Why is this since I intend to keep on operating my farm indefinitely?

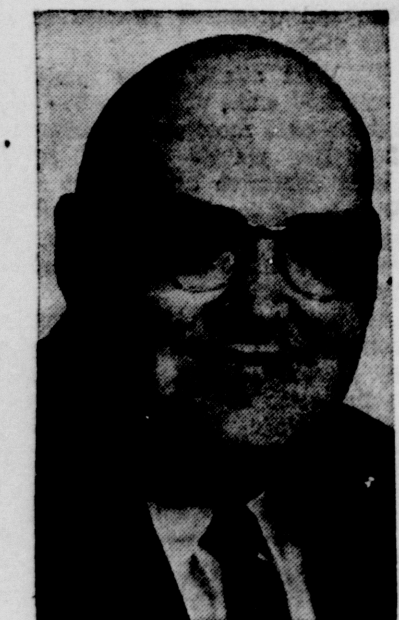

A. No deferment may be granted on a permanent basis. One year is the maximum time for any Class II deferment, which includes Class II-C.

Q. Last month I completed work at our community college with 64 credits. The University will only accept 52 of these. Does such a situation disqualify me for a II-S student deferment as a junior?

A. When a registrant transfers from a junior college or a community college to a degree granting institution, and loses credits through no fault of his own, he may have less than the percent of course completion required by Selective Service Regulations. The local board may, in its discretion, grant a II-S deferment for the first year after transfer, subject to reevaluation at the end of that year based on the work accomplished at the new institution.

Revival Services Set For Church Of The Nazarene

REV. GENE CLARK

The local Church of the Nazarene will conduct a series of revival services beginning Sunday and continuing through February 23. The nightly meetings beginning 7:30 will present the preaching ministry of the Rev. Gene Clark, of Findlay, Ohio, and the music ministry of the Rev. Curtice L. Powell, of Mansfield.

Mr. Clark, a graduate of Findlay College, has traveled extensively in his evangelistic ministry. He conducts a special half-hour youth program prior to the evening services.

Mr. Powell is a tenor soloist and will be heard in each service. A graduate of Olivet and Pasadena Colleges (Nazarene), he has served since 1951 as pastor, evangelist and singer in the ministry of the church.

Patient's Death Is Investigated
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The coroner will rule in the death of a 58-year-old man who apparently set himself afire accidentally at Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital Tuesday.

The victim, Joseph Walker of Cleveland, had been in the hospital since Nov. 27, when he burned himself on a stove at his East Side home.

A hospital spokesman said Walker was not permitted to have matches, and it was not known where he got the matches that set his sheet and gown afire. The book of matches found beside Walker's wheelchair was not hospital issue, the spokesman said.

Stock Market Near Even
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market leaned to the upside early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 65 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .69 at 948.28.

The Dow industrials alternated between narrow gains and losses in the morning because of a wobbly performance by some of its 30 component blue chips.

Big Three auto stocks were all ahead by narrow margins, but the top four steelmakers were generally lower, with U.S. Steel down a full point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 361.0, with industrials up 1.0, rails up .8, and utilities off .3.

The exchanges returned to their regular 4-hour session after a 3-hour session Tuesday and a closing Monday because of heavy snow which snarled traffic in New York City.

NEW YORK (AP) — The big city is at its best when things go wrong with it.

It takes an emergency of some kind—a hurricane, a blackout, a major transportation strike or, as at present, a great snowstorm—to bring out the human brotherhood latent in New York City.

One reason is that it makes people feel more important than machines.

It isn't that way usually here. Machines are paramount. They may not have the legal right-of-way, but they have the power—and the power is what counts. But a 15-inch weekend snowfall changed all that briefly. The man in the street, not the machine in the street, became king for a day.

Machines by the hundreds were stalled throughout the city. Peace, peace, peace—it was a citydweller's heaven, a pedestrian's paradise.

The city never looked more lovely, serene and desirable. Few buses were running, almost no taxicabs could be seen. Both buses and taxis in Manhattan are born cowards, and rarely venture out of their garages unless the U.S. Weather Bureau gives them a written guarantee they won't get their tires wet.

That meant there were few car fumes to cloud up the atmosphere and clog up a fellow's lungs. How clear and beautiful was the city when the snow ceased falling and dawn came!

The streets belong to the people, and the people used them. They were little dots of purpose moving down the rutted lanes like infantrymen going to battle across a wintry landscape. Small clouds of breath-steam marked their march.

Some were plodding to work, some were walking their dogs, some were just out for a stroll. But they did not move with the withdrawn, half-sullen, let me alone and I'll let you alone air so typical of New York.

There was a red-faced jollity about them, a comradeship in trouble. They laughed, they nodded, they made little jokes to each other.

Freed from school for a day, the kids, nearly a million of them, flowed out in juvenile torrents to go sled riding, hurl snowballs, build snow forts and snowmen.

The trees, burdened with great blobs of fleece, bent down their limbs, and the parks were a crystal, glittering gallery of strange and wondrous shapes. Everywhere it looked as if Christmas had made a return visit—to the eye of man, to the heart of man.

"If only the city was like this all the time," said one man.

Then, one by one and two by two, the machines—the buses, the taxis, the trucks, the cars—began to come out into the streets again and take over the city from the people and force them back upon the sidewalks and grind the soft sweet white snow into gray grime and slush.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE EDITOR of a big publishing house visited his ailing boss in the hospital, found him even grumpier than usual and, bothered, took the very lovely young nurse aside

after tip-toeing out of the room to ask, "Tell me the unvarnished truth, please. Is he making any progress?" "None at all," replied the nurse decisively. "He's not my type."

A wealthy New Yorker took unto himself a ravishing blonde night club dancer as a bride, and drove her to Gettysburg for their honeymoon. At the top of one of the town's rolling hills he told her, "One of the Confederacy's finest and bravest regiments stormed this hill but only a handful of the gallant lads reached the summit." "No wonder," nodded the blonde sympathetically. "All these darn monuments!"

QUICKIES: A housewife in Reno stepped out of a neighborhood laundromat for less than five minutes—and somebody won her wash.

A romantic lass embraced her boyfriend joyously. "Isn't it wonderful?" she cooed. "We're just like Romeo and Juliet! My father says he's going to kill you!"

"WHY," asks Alan King, "doesn't somebody once ask a MAN how he manages to combine successfully a marriage and a business career?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

There is a specialty in the practice of medicine composed of people who have no name other than "they." This group of people include the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker and other unrelated people in all walks of life.

The "they" specialists are the ones that patients refer to when they tell their doctors that "they have told them that tonsils should never be removed, milk is good for colitis and night air is bad for asthma." All wrong, as are the thousands of other "they" recommendations.

The vast amount of misinformation that masquerades under the cloak of truth serves only to confuse people and to interfere with the advice and proper treatment of disease by the doctor.

As a physician in the practice of medicine the only way that I can compete with the "they" specialists is to beg them to stop peddling their misinformation and allow their friends and dear ones the right to health that can only be arrived at by following the dictates of their doctors.

Nurses are an important part of the health team. The emotional support that they offer plays an important role in the total recovery of patients. In order to allow them to make the greatest contribution to sick patients in the hospital they need the constant cooperation of patients and families who must understand the tremendous burden placed on them.

During severe infections bacteria may find their way into the blood stream and begin to circulate throughout the body. This is known as bacteremia and indicates the fact that the body's defense forces have not yet been able to control or localize infection. Doctors are able to recognize this condition by sudden severe episodes of chills and high fever. Very often they are able to confirm the condition by taking a sample of blood at the height of the fever and culturing it in the laboratory to find the exact offending germ.

Doctors watch the high rise of fever which returns to a valley, only to rise again. Skin eruptions help to make the diagnosis of bacteremia.

Before the antibiotics and the sulfa drugs, these episodes were considered very dangerous. Today they can be readily controlled while the doctor finds the exact source which poured

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — When asked the extent of securities thefts in the financial district here, a member of an industry committee formed to study the problem replied: "There just aren't any reliable figures."

And another, in answer to the same question, stated: "It is definitely a problem but we don't know the scope and depth." Unofficial estimates, however, place the total in the millions of dollars.

The inability of industry officials to give reliable estimates is closely tied to the problem. No agency of the industry compiles complete statistics on thefts. In fact, little coordinated effort was given to the matter until recently.

Late last year the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Crime set up offices in the financial district. And the big firms that insure brokers against losses began to rebel at having to pay out so much money.

Earlier this month the industry committee was formed "to study the incidence of securities thefts and other crimes against financial institutions." But it must work from scratch; very little data are available.

Information on securities thefts is gathered by police agencies, but generally it is unavailable to others. Brokers or their representatives cannot see the criminal records of the New York police or the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The head of a company that investigates the backgrounds of hundreds of newly hired brokerage house employees, a former FBI man, commented: "There is no legal way to obtain criminal records. They must be obtained subterraneously."

Nor is there any central agency for listing the names and backgrounds of brokerage house employees who have been dismissed on suspicion of embezzlement or for breaches of acceptable behavior.

A dismissed employee may move to a similar job with another broker, perhaps in another city. In these days of clerical shortages some brokers eagerly put an experienced hand to work immediately, with few questions asked.

Because of the chaotic condition of records in some brokerage offices, the new employee might find himself in a position to walk off with securities and not even be suspected of theft for many months.

Some brokers feel that if records of dismissed employees were maintained by an industry agency, and the records made available to all, the hiring of potential thieves would be greatly lessened.

Also needed, they say, is a

Borman Says Nixon To Push Program

BONN, Germany (AP) — Col. Frank Borman said today that President Nixon intends to push ahead with America's space program.

Police Open Fire On Bombay Rioters

BOMBAY (AP) — Police fired on rioting mobs Tuesday in seven different areas of Bombay as looters took advantage of the factional violence between language groups that has killed at least 39 persons and injured nearly 500 in five days.

Authorities said thieves, hoodlums and slum-dwellers now pose a bigger threat than the ethnic factions, looting shops and factories in the confusion.

Ervin Leist was appointed central records system for stocks and bonds are to be recognized as such, they contend, then all brokers must contribute information to the system and draw on it as well.

In a sense, these shortcomings, which may be contributing to a dangerous loss of confidence by the investing public, are just more evidence of an industry badly in need of modernizing.

The brokerage business has generally been one of individualism or partnerships. Until recently it had little of the formal structure that characterized the corporations whose shares it traded.

In most houses the emphasis has been almost solely on sales. Humdrum matters, such as record keeping, although they might have been meticulously attended to, were seldom the focus of the boss' efforts. Sales, not records, made money.

Reflecting this, front offices often were sumptuous, even over-stuffed, but back offices were barren. In an age of computers, some firms until recently were little advanced beyond the quill.

When the sales efforts paid off in a trading boom the back offices weren't ready. Front offices were kept assuringly comfortable, but only because everything was swept behind the facade.

Now, under prodding and discipline by regulatory agencies and the stock exchanges, modern methods are being applied to the mess. Opinions differ on how strenuously the modernization is being pursued or if it is effective.

Meanwhile, as one insurer states, the disorderly situation could mean a heyday for professional thieves.

The trees, burdened with great blobs of fleece, bent down their limbs, and the parks were a crystal, glittering gallery of strange and wondrous shapes. Everywhere it looked as if Christmas had made a return visit—to the eye of man, to the heart of man.

"If only the city was like this all the time," said one man.

Then, one by one and two by two, the machines—the buses, the taxis, the trucks, the cars—began to come out into the streets again and take over the city from the people and force them back upon the sidewalks and grind the soft sweet white snow into gray grime and slush.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE EDITOR of a big publishing house visited his ailing boss in the hospital, found him even grumpier than usual and, bothered, took the very lovely young nurse aside

after tip-toeing out of the room to ask, "Tell me the unvarnished truth, please. Is he making any progress?" "None at all," replied the nurse decisively. "He's not my type."

A wealthy New Yorker took unto himself a ravishing blonde night club dancer as a bride, and drove her to Gettysburg for their honeymoon. At the top of one of the town's rolling hills he told her, "One of the Confederacy's finest and bravest regiments stormed this hill but only a handful of the gallant lads reached the summit." "No wonder," nodded the blonde sympathetically. "All these darn monuments!"

QUICKIES: A housewife in Reno stepped out of a neighborhood laundromat for less than five minutes—and somebody won her wash.

A romantic lass embraced her boyfriend joyously. "Isn't it wonderful?" she cooed. "We're just like Romeo and Juliet! My father says he's going to kill you!"

"WHY," asks Alan King, "doesn't somebody once ask a MAN how he manages to combine successfully a marriage and a business career?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

There is a specialty in the practice of medicine composed of people who have no name other than "they." This group of people include the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker and other unrelated people in all walks of life.

The "they" specialists are the ones that patients refer to when they tell their doctors that "they" have told them that tonsils should never be removed, milk is good for colitis and night air is bad for asthma. All wrong, as are the thousands of other "they" recommendations.

The vast amount of misinformation that masquerades under the cloak of truth serves only to confuse people and to interfere with the advice and proper treatment of disease by the doctor.

As a physician in the practice of medicine the only way that I can compete with the "they" specialists is to beg them to stop peddling their misinformation and allow their friends and dear ones the right to health that can only be arrived at by following the dictates of their doctors.

Nurses are an important part of the health team. The emotional support that they offer plays an important role in the total recovery of patients. In order to allow them to make the greatest contribution to sick patients in the hospital they need the constant cooperation of patients and families who must understand the tremendous burden placed on them.

During severe infections bacteria may find their way into the blood stream and begin to circulate throughout the body. This is known as bacteremia and indicates the fact that the body's defense forces have not yet been able to control or localize infection. Doctors are able to recognize this condition by sudden severe episodes of chills and high fever. Very often they are able to confirm the condition by taking a sample of blood at the height of the fever and culturing it in the laboratory to find the exact offending germ.

Doctors watch the high rise of fever which returns to a valley, only to rise again. Skin eruptions help to make the diagnosis of bacteremia.

Before the antibiotics and the sulfa drugs, these episodes were considered very dangerous. Today they can be readily controlled while the doctor finds the exact source which poured the germs into the blood circulation.

A very special illness called endocarditis was caused by an infection of the inner lining of the heart. Twenty-five years ago this condition terrorized the doctor when he made the diagnosis because of his inability to save the life of his patient. Today this severe illness can be controlled and cured by the wonders of modern medicine.

Mothballs to many children are tempting "candies." Keep them out of their reach.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — When asked the extent of securities thefts in the financial district here, a member of an industry committee formed to study the problem replied: "There just aren't any reliable figures."

And another, in answer to the same question, stated: "It is definitely a problem but we don't know the scope and depth." Unofficial estimates, however, place the total in the millions of dollars.

The inability of industry officials to give reliable estimates is closely tied to the problem. No agency of the industry compiles complete statistics on thefts. In fact, little coordinated effort was given to the matter until recently.

Late last year the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Crime set up offices in the financial district. And the big firms that insure brokers against losses began to rebel at having to pay out so much money.

Earlier this month the industry committee was formed "to study the incidence of securities thefts and other crimes against financial institutions." But it must work from scratch; very little data are available.

Information on securities thefts is gathered by police agencies, but generally it is unavailable to others. Brokers or their representatives cannot see the criminal records of the New York police or the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The head of a company that investigates the backgrounds of hundreds of newly hired brokerage house employees, a former FBI man, commented: "There is no legal way to obtain criminal records. They must be obtained subterfugeously."

Nor is there any central agency for listing the names and backgrounds of brokerage house employees who have been dismissed on suspicion of embezzlement or for breaches of acceptable behavior.

A dismissed employee may move to a similar job with another broker, perhaps in another city. In these days of clerical shortages some brokers eagerly put an experienced hand to work immediately, with few questions asked.

Because of the chaotic condition of records in some brokerage offices, the new employee might find himself in a position to walk off with securities and not even be suspected of theft for many months.

Some brokers feel that if records of dismissed employees were maintained by an industry agency, and the records made available to all, the hiring of potential thieves would be greatly lessened.

Also needed, they say, is a central records system for stocks and bonds are to be recognized as such, they contend, then all brokers must contribute information to the system and draw on it as well.

In a sense, these shortcomings, which may be contributing to a dangerous loss of confidence by the investing public, are just more evidence of an industry badly in need of modernizing.

The brokerage business has generally been one of individuals or partnerships. Until recently it had little of the formal structure that characterized the corporations whose shares it traded.

In most houses the emphasis has been almost solely on sales. Humdrum matters, such as record keeping, although they might have been meticulously attended to, were seldom the focus of the boss' efforts. Sales, not records, made money.

Reflecting this, front offices often were sumptuous, even over-stuffed, but back offices were barren. In an age of computers, some firms until recently were little advanced beyond the quill. When the sales efforts paid off in a trading boom the back offices weren't ready. Front offices were kept assuringly comfortable, but only because everything was swept behind the facade.

Now, under prodding and discipline by regulatory agencies and the stock exchanges, modern methods are being applied to the mess. Opinions differ on how strenuously the modernization is being pursued or if it is effective.

Meanwhile, as one insurer states, the disorderly situation could mean a heyday for professional thieves.

Blacks In Franchising

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

When they talk about black capitalism, why isn't there any mention of the opportunity that Negroes might find in becoming franchise operators?

The field could be a good one for the "little man" no matter what his color. Where else can one get into something that lets a man be his own boss without having to pony up a large amount of capital? Where else can one get the benefit of expert advice about location, what rent to pay, and general marketing conditions? The owner of a franchise gets the benefits of capitalistic enterprise without taking all the risks. You'd think someone would try to adapt franchising to the Negro's needs.

The franchise field, of course, happens to be preempted by white men at the top who are interested primarily in their profit. Ball room dancing schools, motel and inn franchises, hamburger and chicken empires and ice cream franchises have not commonly been sociologically motivated. When Edward Hutter, known to the trade as "Coffee Hutch," started to franchise New York, Connecticut and Long Island dealers to establish so-called in-plant installation in factories, schools and offices that would dispense coffee at five cents a cup, he felt he had a foolproof thing going that would make money for all his operators. And this turned out to be true. His computerized pulse-taking of income, inventory and expenses enabled him to spot weaknesses in an individual franchise before the owner himself was aware that anything was wrong. I asked Mr. Hutch why aspiring black capitalists did not fall over themselves to get his franchises. He said that it was an ego problem: the black man does not like to take a franchise from a white boss, considering it a demeaning thing to do.

But maybe it is mere unfamiliarity with such esoteric things as coffee dispensers, the teaching of ball room dance steps, or running a motel or restaurant in a predetermined style. In businesses in which Negroes can still move in their own environments, such as selling gasoline on familiar street corners, there has been some development of franchise "black capitalism." The Shell Oil Company, for example, has had a great deal of success in turning Negroes into ideal service station dealers.

The curious thing is that Shell hasn't exploited the fact to make sociological capital for itself. It publishes Shell ads and a booklet to prove that "America is still a land of opportunity." And you read that Otis Smith of Harlem in New York (income $25,000 a year), "Jay" Ingram of Detroit (net worth, $11,088, gross annual income, $12,500), George Slade of Milwaukee (net worth, $2,600, annual gross, $9,000), Claude Hunter of Milwaukee (worth, $4,800, gross income, $14,000), Earnest Nicholson of Los Angeles (worth, $45,000, annual income, $22,500), and John

Something To Think About . . . Expression Of Love

By JEAN CRIST

John Heiskell To Speak At Kiwanis Club

JOHN R. HEISKELL

John R. Heiskell, director of farm programming, WSAB Radio and television, Huntington, W. Va., will be the guest speaker at the Circleville Kiwanis Club Farmers' Night Program Monday.

Heiskell is a native of Circleville. He was a secretary-manager of the Pickaway County Fair, program director and coordinator of Pumpkin Show.

Active in all sports, Heiskell was a registered basketball and football official for 25 years.

He was former lieutenant governor of the southern Ohio district of Kiwanis International, vice president of the Middleport Rotary Club, member of the Ohio Farm Bureau, president of Gallinolis and Circleville Kiwanis Clubs, president of Circleville Park Board and Circleville Booster Club, regional vice president of the National Assn. of Farm Broadcasters.

In addition, Heiskell is the holder of many special awards related to the field of agriculture.

He is a layreader in the Episcopal Church of Ohio and West Virginia.

of expressions of love. But are these as a result of the true feelings of the givers or are they the result of an increasingly successful commercial venture which has made it the thing to do to conform to the social norm, whether or not it is particularly meaningful?

Despite the financial success of this particular day in that it supposedly reflects a mass regard for and expression of love, I think it is superficial and that honest communication of our deepest feelings for those we love is disappearing from the American culture and a sad loss it will be.

Our society presents a contradiction. It is considered "square" and unsophisticated by many to express our feelings of love or to show our need for it. The "in" thing is to be blasé and above the peasant need for such things. And yet these are the same people who cry out in a hundred different ways their deep and overwhelming need for the knowledge that they are loved and appreciated.

It is time the myth that we should suppress our feelings of love for others on the grounds that it isn't dignified or sophisticated, be exploded and replaced with the realization that it is only through this expression of reaching out to touch others through love that we can achieve the purpose of life.

Love held for another needs to be communicated to that person or it is valueless and meaningless to him. This communication can be accomplished in many ways, all of them important and necessary but some more special and precious than others. For example, a father may provide well financially for his child thereby showing his love and interest or he may take the time to sit by his bed at night and listen to the special happenings of the boy's day ending the conversation with, "I love you, son, you are a very special part of my world." A husband can show his love for his wife by doing the odd jobs around the house that she feels necessary or he may, in the midst of an evening spent in a quiet restaurant surrounded by many attractive women, reach for her hand and say, "You look beautiful tonight, I'm proud you are my wife."

This communication of sincere feeling of love and respect for another has the quality of lifting those involved out of the ordinary and into the extraordinary realm which each of us must be a part of occasionally to make our lives worth living.

For many, men in particular, it would be easier to climb a mountain or ford the rapids than it is to say to his wife the words which express his love for her. You as a mother, hesitate to tell your modern teenage son or daughter how much you care for them because you fear they might laugh and call you old-fashioned. Wives are concerned their husbands will consider them ridiculous and overly sentimental if they expressed their true feelings, so they say nothing.

Be embarrassed, stammer, blush, take the chance of appearing foolish but if you love someone, tell them so. Your self-consciousness will be temporary but the effect of your words may be greater and more permanent than you realize. After all, isn't letting another person know you love them the most wonderful thing you can do for them?

Man Given Life Term

DETROIT (AP) — The maximum penalty of life imprisonment has been imposed on a 25-year-old white man in the shotgun death of a Negro during the Detroit's 1967 riot.

Recorder Court Judge Joseph Gillis handed down the sentence Tuesday against Richard P. Shugar, who was convicted of second-degree murder by an all-white jury after a nine-day trial last month.

Shugar was accused of killing Nathaniel Edmonds, 23, an auto worker, during an argument over alleged store looting.

Shugar's attorney said he would file a motion for a new trial, but the judge said the defendant's prison term would start now despite any subsequent legal action.

"I consider the crime a deliberate, malicious act," Gillis said in his chambers after passing sentence. Shugar testified he shot Edmonds while guarding a store after Edmonds appeared to be reaching for a weapon. The prosecution contended that Shugar was "on a hunting expedition that ended in an execution."

I. W. Abel Winning USW Re-Election

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel, who climbed from the mill floor to the top of organized labor, took a commanding lead and appeared bound for victory today in his battle to keep the presidency of the powerful United Steelworkers Union.

Unofficial returns compiled by Abel's campaign aides gave the incumbent a 129,868 to 66,431 lead over challenger Emil Narick, a relatively unknown union lawyer. Abel's committee said it's tally included 2,225 of the union's 3,700 locals. An Associated Press survey had Abel ahead by a similar 2-1 margin. The voting won't be official until all ballots are certified by union tellers. This could take until May 1.

Abel, whose reserved manner has become a trademark, did not appear in public. Narick, working out of the basement of his suburban Pittsburgh home, said, "I see nothing to cause me to be discouraged. On the contrary, I've been very pleased. We're getting the locals where we got nominations and even some where we didn't."

Narick, a handsome 52-year-old former Pitt football player, was trying to become the second man in the 26-year-history of the 1.2 million member union to defeat an incumbent president.

Abel was the first. Four years ago, after a bitter campaign, the 60-year-old leader brought a sudden end to the colorful 12-year reign of David J. McDonald.

Unlike the 1965 race, which was not decided for nearly three months, a pattern seemed to emerge with the opening of the ballots Tuesday.

As expected, Abel drew strong support from the East, Midwest, Canada and parts of the South. He gained large pluralities in Philadelphia, East Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Toronto and Montreal.

At the same time, Abel ran well in the steel centers surrounding Pittsburgh where Narick's candidacy was kindled by what he called the sweeping discontent of the rank and file.

Narick was leading in only two areas, both in western Pennsylvania. He said he was hurt in the East by a snowstorm which had a marked effect on voter turnout.

In other sections of the country, the turnout was described as moderate to heavy.

The basic internal issue of the campaign was money. Abel, who began his career in the mills at Canton, Ohio, focused on a record contract negotiated with the steel industry last summer. The pact gave workers average hourly increases of 51 cents over three years.

Narick claimed the contract was unsatisfactory. He argued the workers deserved more and promised if elected to give locals strike power to gain concessions at the plant level.

Love held for another needs to be communicated to that person or it is valueless and meaningless to him. This communication can be accomplished in many ways, all of them important and necessary but some more special and precious than others. For example, a father may provide well financially for his child thereby showing his love and interest or he may take the time to sit by his bed at night and listen to the special happenings of the boy's day ending the conversation with, "I love you, son, you are a very special part of my world." A husband can show his love for his wife by doing the odd jobs around the house that she feels necessary or he may, in the midst of an evening spent in a quiet restaurant surrounded by many attractive women, reach for her hand and say, "You look beautiful tonight, I'm proud you are my wife."

This communication of sincere feeling of love and respect for another has the quality of

I. W. Abel Winning USW Re-Election

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel, who climbed from the mill floor to the top of organized labor, took a commanding lead and appeared bound for victory today in his battle to keep the presidency of the powerful United Steelworkers Union.

Unofficial returns compiled by Abel's campaign aides gave the incumbent a 129,868 to 66,431 lead over challenger Emil Narick, a relatively unknown union lawyer. Abel's committee said it's tally included 2.25 of the union's 3,700 locals.

An Associated Press survey had Abel ahead by a similar 2-1 margin. The voting won't be official until all ballots are certified by union tellers. This could take until May 1.

Abel, whose reserved manner has become a trademark, did not appear in public.

Narick, working out of the basement of his suburban Pittsburgh home, said, "I see nothing to cause me to be discouraged. On the contrary, I've been very pleased. We're getting the locals where we got nominations and even some where we didn't."

Narick, a handsome 52-year-old former Pitt football player, was trying to become the second man in the 26-year-history of the 1.2 million member union to defeat an incumbent president.

Abel was the first. Four years ago, after a bitter campaign, the 60-year-old leader brought a sudden end to the colorful 12-year reign of David J. McDonald.

Unlike the 1965 race, which was not decided for nearly three months, a pattern seemed to emerge with the opening of the ballots, Tuesday.

As expected, Abel drew strong support from the East, Midwest, Canada and parts of the South. He gained large pluralities in Philadelphia, East Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Toronto and Montreal.

At the same time, Abel ran well in the steel centers surrounding Pittsburgh where Narick's candidacy was kindled by what he called the sweeping discontent of the rank and file.

Narick was leading in only two areas, both in western Pennsylvania. He said he was hurt in the East by a snowstorm which had a marked effect on voter turnout.

In other sections of the country, the turnout was described as moderate to heavy.

The basic internal issue of the campaign was money. Abel, who began his career in the mills at Canton, Ohio, focused on a record contract negotiated with the steel industry last summer. The pact gave workers average hourly increases of 51 cents over three years.

Narick claimed the contract was unsatisfactory. He argued the workers deserved more and promised if elected to give locals strike power to gain concessions at the plant level.

Book By Charles Sawyer Reviewed For Monday Club

Mrs. O. E. Barr, president, presided at the recent meeting of The Monday Club held in the Lutheran Church Parish House. During the business session, Miss Mary Jane Watt was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Collis Young presented a review of the book "Concerns of a Conservative Democrat" by the Honorable Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati. Mr. Sawyer is a conservative Northern Democrat and his years of service to his country and his party have proved it.

At the age of 24 he was elected to the Cincinnati City Council and served two terms. He was elected Democratic Committee man and later State Chairman for the Democratic party. He has also served as Lt. Governor of Ohio.

For his years of service and because he was a man of many abilities he was offered the post of Ambassador to Belgium and Minister to Luxembourg, which he accepted.

After his tour of duty in this capacity, Mr. Sawyer returned to the United States and President Truman gave him a Cabinet post as Secretary of Commerce.

Since Mr. Sawyer is an outstanding lawyer and business man, owning and operating many large businesses, it was during this time that he worked diligently for the business men, and for the reduction of Federal Overseas spending.

Writes Mr. Sawyer: — "The Department of Commerce was created and should operate to help American business. It should be recognized that a business man is likely to know more about his business than a government employee or economist. As a small boy I was fascinated by the picture of Atlas, the giant, who carried the entire world upon his shoulders. I was fascinated, not only by the immense load he was carrying but by the mystery—what was he standing on? What supported the man who was supporting the world?"

"America today is in the position of Atlas. What are we standing on? We have nothing to stand on but the strength and solidity of our own economy. I was a Democrat and thoroughly in sympathy with Democratic doctrine, but I did not share the view of many in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, that the business man was a God-given whipping

Council Of Church Women Plans Future Activities

The Circleville Council of Church Women held a board meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. George Schenck, 431 Glenmount Court. Mrs. Clarence Boyer, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Schenck led in devotions, giving a brief resume of a talk describing the art work of Sister Charita, noted artist who combines humor and art to bring joy to her religion.

Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Russell Archer reported on the January activities of the Clothing Center. The church representatives were reminded to have helpers report to the center for sorting 1 p.m. Feb. 25 and 26 for distribution.

The Pickaway Social Club held its January meeting at the Church of the Brethren. Their next meeting will be Feb. 27 in the Service Center of the Good Shepherd United Methodist church on E. Main Street, and the March meeting will be at St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Final plans were made for the annual World Day of Prayer Service, to be held at 1:30 p.m. March 7 in the First Presbyterian church, 130 E. Mount Street. Mrs. Schenck and Mrs. Henry Walters reported that the church ladies were planning to provide free baby sitting service that afternoon, and refreshments for a social hour after the prayer service. Samuel Chandler of Nigeria, a student at Circleville Bible College, will be a guest speaker for the afternoon. Each church in the council will have a part in the program and is asked to provide 2 or more ladies to compose a choir to lead in the singing.

Mrs. Boyer appointed the following nominating committee. Mrs. Russell Archer, Mrs. Pauline Jones and Mrs. George Schenck, who will announce a slate of officers at the next board meeting, 7:30 p.m. April 14 in the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Walters offered a brief prayer in closing.

Book By Charles Sawyer Reviewed For Monday Club

Mrs. O. E. Barr, president, presided at the recent meeting of The Monday Club held in the Lutheran Church Parish House. During the business session, Miss Mary Jane Watt was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Collis Young presented a review of the book "Concerns of a Conservative Democrat" by the Honorable Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati. Mr. Sawyer is a conservative Northern Democrat and his years of service to his country and his party have proved it.

At the age of 24 he was elected to the Cincinnati City Council and served two terms. He was elected Democratic Committee man and later State Chairman for the Democratic party. He has also served as Lt. Governor of Ohio.

For his years of service and because he was a man of many abilities he was offered the post of Ambassador to Belgium and Minister to Luxembourg, which he accepted.

After his tour of duty in this capacity, Mr. Sawyer returned to the United States and President Truman gave him a Cabinet post as Secretary of Commerce.

Since Mr. Sawyer is an outstanding lawyer and business man, owning and operating many large businesses, it was during this time that he worked diligently for the business man, and for the reduction of Federal Overseas spending.

Writes Mr. Sawyer: — "The Department of Commerce was created and should operate to help American business. It should be recognized that a business man is likely to know more about his business than a government employee or economist. As a small boy I was fascinated by the picture of Atlas, the giant, who carried the entire world upon his shoulders. I was fascinated, not only by the immense load he was carrying but by the mystery—what was he standing on? What supported the man who was supporting the world?"

"America today is in the position of Atlas. What are we standing on? We have nothing to stand on but the strength and solidity of our own economy. I was a Democrat and thoroughly in sympathy with Democratic doctrine, but I did not share the view of many in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, that the business man was a God-given whipping boy. His troubles could be cured or greatly alleviated by certain changes in tax laws. Owners of small businesses had to be given more leeway to keep and reinvest profits. Addressing a graduating class I said, 'You should believe that business is a blessing. A business career is attractive and your greatest contribution in business is to work and work hard.'"

After his Cabinet post, Mr. Sawyer was asked to serve on the Overseas Economic Operations Task Force of the Hoover Commission dealing with Foreign Aid.

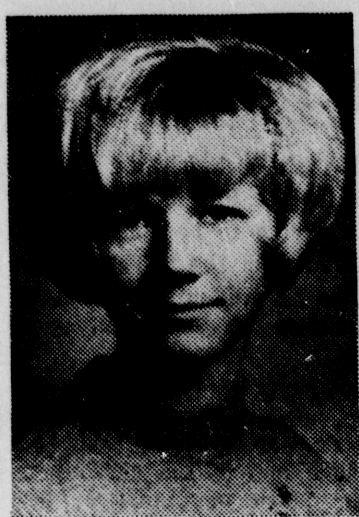

Of this assignment, Mr. Sawyer writes, "Americans have for years been concerned about other peoples. Earlier our missionaries wandered over the world seeing that others enjoyed religion of the type we recommend, we concern ourselves with their political and social welfare. The failure of this concept to recognize the limits of our experience, wisdom, and wealth has been hard for me to understand. The level to which our aid has mounted is shocking and a nauseating waste of these programs. The 'Task Force' had devoted much time and thought to objective examination of foreign aid. It was, for the most part, wasted effort."

Mr. Sawyer, in the closing chapters of his book, offers the following views, "I am greatly concerned by two developments which have not happened before. I am concerned about the overpopulation of the earth. The prospect is horrifying, where if population continues at its present rate, in seven hundred years there will be only one square meter per person on earth, including the oceans. Why worry about what will happen in seven hundred years—but worry we should."

"My next great concern is the bomb, for as more and more nations possess the bomb, some Hitler, Castro, or Mao will go berserk and set the world afire. I am concerned that the bomb will come from either of two places—China and Cuba—Mao and Castro. The Chinese are not afraid of an exchange of bombs in the future, but they are not ready now. It has been suggested that we bomb their missile sites. Our action would shock world opinion, but of what importance is world opinion compared to our survival?"

"And what of Castro? I am concerned that Castro might launch a missile attack against us. Castro would not permit an on-site inspection of the missile sites in Cuba, so it is possible they are still there. We go ten thousand miles around the world to fight Communism, but we tolerate it ninety miles from our shores. There are compelling reasons for an effort to defeat Communism on this side of the world. To reverse the onward march of Communism and prove that it can be stopped in the western world would be of great benefit psychologically as well as practically. Castro can be eliminated."

"My concerns I believe to be justified, but I could be wrong."

Final plans were made for the annual World Day of Prayer Service, to be held at 1:30 p.m. March 7 in the First Presbyterian church, 130 E. Mound Street. Mrs. Schenck and Mrs. Henry Walters reported that the church ladies were planning to provide free baby sitting service that afternoon, and refreshments for a social hour after the prayer service. Samuel Chandler of Nigeria, a student at Circleville Bible College, will be a guest speaker for the afternoon. Each church in the council will have a part in the program and is asked to provide 2 or more ladies to compose a choir to lead in the singing.

Mrs. Boyer appointed the following nominating committee, Mrs. Russell Archer, Mrs. Pauline Jones and Mrs. George Schenck, who will announce a slate of officers at the next board meeting, 7:30 p.m. April 14 in the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Walters offered a brief prayer in closing.

Lions Auxiliary To Fete Husbands

Lions Auxiliary will observe Husband's Night when they meet 7 p.m. Monday at the Wardell Party Home. Co-hostesses will be Kathryn Thomerson and Connie Howell.

SAFETY SLOGAN — Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson (left) and Robert Martin of the Cincinnati District Sales Office, Ford Motor Company, show a "Mustang Grande" model car which houses a transistor radio. Each adult county winner in the seventh annual safety slogan essay contest will be awarded one of these radios. The contest runs through March 31 and is sponsored by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, Ford Motor Dealers and Ohio Association of Insurance Agents. First prize in the contest is a 1969 car with Ohio's number one license plates. There is a juvenile division for youngsters under 16.

GE Vice President Named Chairman Of JOBS Program

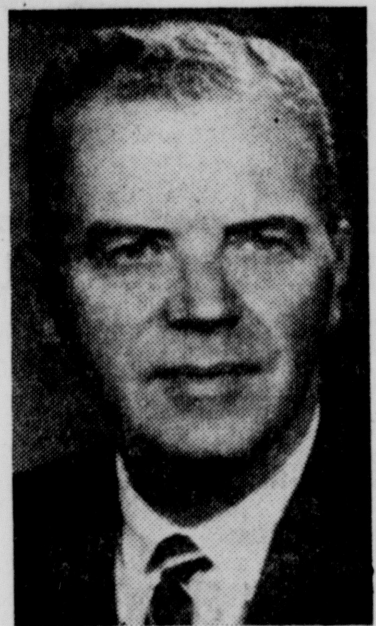

Robert V. Corning, Vice President of the General Electric Company, and General Manager of its Lamp Division headquartered in Cleveland, has been appointed this year's chairman of the Cleveland efforts in the JOBS program of the National Alliance of Businessmen.

Corning succeeds G. J. Tankersley, President of East Ohio Gas, who headed the 1968 program.

Corning has also accepted Mayor Stokes' offer of chairman of Cleveland's Summer Youth Employment Program.

The JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Business Sector) program is a concerted, national effort by businessmen — in cooperation with the federal, state, and local government — to place 50,000 disadvantaged people in jobs by 1971. One-fifth of these, 100,000 were to be on the job by June 30, 1969 if the national program was to move on schedule. By mid-January of this year, nearly 12,000 private firms had hired a total of 125,000 workers, of which some 85,000 — more than two-thirds — remained on the job. Approximately one-third of those who have terminated have either gone back to school or taken other jobs.

Corning, named by President Nixon to head the continuing local effort for 1969, said, "I am honored by this appointment and pledge my best efforts in continuing this important work started under the most capable leadership of Jack Tankersley."

Asked about the importance of the NAB program, Bob Corning said, "It has become perfectly evident that in addition to the humanitarian reasons, there are sound economic reasons why putting the disadvantaged to work is in the best interests of our national economy."

"For example, it has been estimated that each newly-hired disadvantaged worker will contribute $10,000 per year to the Gross National Product, pay federal and state taxes of about $277 per year, increase his purchasing power for goods and services by about $3,400 per year, and decrease welfare and support payments on the average of $1,308 per year. The business community is no one to ignore potentially larger markets for its goods and services, nor ways that its tax money can be put to more productive work in the national interest."

Corning pointed out that with six out of seven jobs falling in private industry, and employment looked at as being the most effective cure for poverty, the bulk of the responsibility and opportunity rests with the business community.

Social Security Income Reports Are Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a series of questions and corresponding answers published for better understanding the filing of annual earnings reports with the Social Security Administration as released from the Chillicothe office.

Q. I tried to keep my earnings for 1968 down to $1680 but I ran $50 over. What should I do about this?

A. You should be sure to file an annual report of your 1968 earnings with the Social Security Administration no later than April 15, 1969. The annual report form is available at your Social Security Office. You have probably been paid $25 too much for 1968 — one dollar for each two dollars you earned over the permitted amount. The $25 will be withheld from a benefit check shortly after your report is processed.

Q. I estimated I would earn $2000 for 1968 but actually earned only $1600. Do I have to fill out an annual estimate?

A. Yes, you should file one in order to collect the additional payment due you. Probably $160 was held back on the basis of your $2000 estimate. This amount will be paid to you since you did not earn over the permitted amount of $1,680.

Q. My father was 72 in March 1968. He earned $3000 during the year but none of that was earned before he was 72. Does he have to file an annual report?

A. Yes. Although he is entitled to all his benefits for the year, the Social Security Administration needs his statement that he did not earn over $140 in January and February, the months before he reached age 72.

Q. My son received benefits on his father's social security account until he was 18 last August. According to his W-2, he earned $2080 for the year. I am sure he hadn't earned as much as $1680 up to the time the payments stopped. Do I have to file an annual report for him?

A. Yes, because he earned

Ship Reported Out Of Danger

NEW YORK (AP) — The freighter Exminster, in trouble Monday during an Atlantic storm when it reported taking on four feet of water an hour in its engine room, was out of immediate danger today, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The 473-foot vessel manned by 46 crewmen had radioed she was sinking in 17-foot seas 180 miles southeast of Nantucket.

Two pumps were dropped on board by a Coast Guard plane and two more were passed aboard by the cutter Sherman, stopping the leakage, the spokesman said.

Old Rules Rapped

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Dr. Terrell O. Carver, health administrator for Idaho, says state regulations for hotels and motels are way behind the times. For example, Dr. Carver said, Idaho law calls for each hotel to have on each floor "a strong knotted rope for persons to escape," a certain number of cuspidors in the lobby and "an adequate fire gong must be provided which can be heard in every guest room."

over the permitted amount of $1680 in the taxable year. You should be very careful to show on the report which months he did not earn over $140. Earnings after the month he was 18 would affect his right to benefits for any months before age 18 that he earned over $140. In your son's case, there is a possibility that he was paid $200 too much for the year.

Local Kiwanis Club 'Adopts' Indian Boy

The Circleville Kiwanis Club has "adopted" a child in India. He is seven-year-old I. Meera Mytheen, a student at Florence Swainson Deaf School, Palayamkottai, S. India.

MEERA MYTHEEN

Meera has never known the joys of a poverty-free home life. Both of his parents are living, but their meager income is not sufficient to provide their son with nourishing food and warm clothing.

To make matters worse, Meera was born deaf.

HARDLY able to supply sufficient food and clothing much less bear school expenses and give the child medical care, the parents need outside help.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-7831

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple No. 366 will hold their regular meeting at the K. P. Hall on Tuesday, February 18. Hostesses will be Marilyn Sabine, Helen Huhlewin, Joan Kennedy, Fern Lutz and Mary Costlow.

Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Williams were the Saturday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Hopper.

Mrs. Paul (Bonnie) Anderson of Scioto Street entered Mercy Hospital Monday and underwent surgery on Tuesday. Her beauty shop located on West Main Street will be closed for the next five or six weeks.

The Christian Women's Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet at the Church on Thursday, February 13 at 7:30 p.m. Hostess will be Francis Moss.

The Teays Valley Athletic Booster Club met recently at the high school with twenty-three members present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Dale Schiff. Both the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were read and approved.

The main item of business for the evening was the securing of help for the District Tournament to be held at the school this month. The Booster Club is to provide the workers for the food concession and the ticket takers.

It was announced that the club had purchased a case of soap to be sent to a member, Jim Denman, who is now stationed with the Air Guard in Korea. Jim is helping sponsor an orphanage near the Air Base where he is stationed. The soap is badly needed as so many of the unfortunate children at the orphanage are suffering from skin diseases.

President Schiff announced that the blazer coats the Club had purchased for the members of the coaching staffs of all sports in the school had arrived. The navy blue coats with the school emblem on the pocket were first worn by the coaches at the basketball game on Friday evening.

Coach Dick Kidwell was present and stated that the aerogenics that the club had purchased for the athletic department were being used by the boys in physical fitness programs.

Another project for the club for the coming year will be the purchasing of film for the filming of both the football and basketball games. This will be the first time that the basketball games have been filmed. The club members were very happy to accommodate both coaches, Kidwell and Hoover, in this project.

The Club will furnish a dinner for the members of the reserve and varsity basketball teams, managers and coaches on February 14. The dinner will be served at the K of P Hall. The club also furnished a dinner for the football team this past fall.

The next meeting of the club will be March 3 at the high school. All interested persons are invited to attend these meetings. The parents of all Junior High students participating in sports are welcome to attend as well as those of high school students.

Mr. Marvin Richard is a surgical patient at Riverside Hospital in Columbus. He entered the hospital on Sunday and underwent surgery on Monday.

Mr. George Kuhlwein, Sr. returned to his home on Monday after being a patient for three weeks in Grant Hospital, Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlwein celebrated their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cook attended the Tri-County Kiwanis Club President's Banquet in Lancaster Saturday evening. The dinner was served at Shaw's Steak House.

Mrs. Harry Sark is a patient in Doctors Hospital, Dennison Avenue, Columbus. Her room is No. 125 South.

Results of the Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League were: high single game and series, Jill Rose 225 and 582; high team game and series, Morrison's Market 650 and 1,846.

Concordat Under Strain In Italy

ROME (AP) — The Concordat that binds the Italian state to the Roman Catholic Church was 40 years old Tuesday and on the anniversary is facing a major challenge.

The Concordat is one of the three treaties that freed the Popes from self-imprisonment in the Vatican and ended 60 years of feuding following Italy's annexation of the Papal States. Mussolini and representatives of Pope Pius I signed the pacts on Feb. 11, 1929.

The Concordat regulates the condition of religion and of the Church in Italy, and the Vatican has always defended it tooth and nail. Pope Paul VI described it a year ago as "an evident necessity for the true good of the Italian people and for its future." But Italy's church party, the Christian Democrats, can no longer govern without the support of the Socialists; to satisfy the Socialists the government has named a commission of jurists to draw up a thorough revision of the Concordat and has won parliamentary support for the project.

The major controversy between Church and State stems from a bill to legalize divorce in Italy. The Concordat established Roman Catholicism as Italy's official religion, and the Vatican says this implies recognition of the Church's stand that a marriage cannot be dissolved.

2 More Ohioans Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported Tuesday that two more Ohioans have been killed in action in Vietnam.

They were Army Pfc. Robert D. DeBoard, son of Minnie DeBoard, Rt. 2, Plain City and Marine 1st Lt. Andrew M. Maglague of Batavia.

Hence it says that the divorce bill violates the Concordat.

Baby Is Born At Dispensary

NEW YORK (AP) — An expectant mother, prevented from getting to a hospital, by the Northeast snowstorm, was rushed to the dispensary of Floyd Bennett Field. She walked the last 300 feet through four-foot drifts, then gave birth to a son.

Sailors at the military air field in Brooklyn dubbed the infant "Mr. Floyd." The mother, Mrs. Frederick George, named him Rod Thomas George. Dr. Cecil Grimes, assisted by three other snow-stranded surgeons, performed the delivery.

"This was better service than I expected," said Mrs. George, "but I don't expect to be back."

The Concordat is one of the three treaties that freed the Pope from self-imprisonment in the Vatican and ended 60 years of feuding following Italy's annexation of the Papal States. Mussolini and representatives of Pope Pius XI signed the pacts on Feb. 11, 1929. The Concordat regulates the condition of religion and of the Church in Italy, and the Vatican has always defended it tooth and nail. Pope Paul VI described it a year ago as "an evident necessity for the true good of the Italian people and for its future." But Italy's church party, the Christian Democrats, can no longer govern without the support of the Socialists; to satisfy the Socialists the government has named a commission of jurists to draw up a thorough revision of the Concordat and has won parliamentary support for the project. The major controversy between Church and State stems from a bill to legalize divorce in Italy. The Concordat established Roman Catholicism as Italy's official religion, and the Vatican says this implies recognition of the Church's stand that a marriage cannot be dissolved.

2 More Ohioans Killed In Vietnam

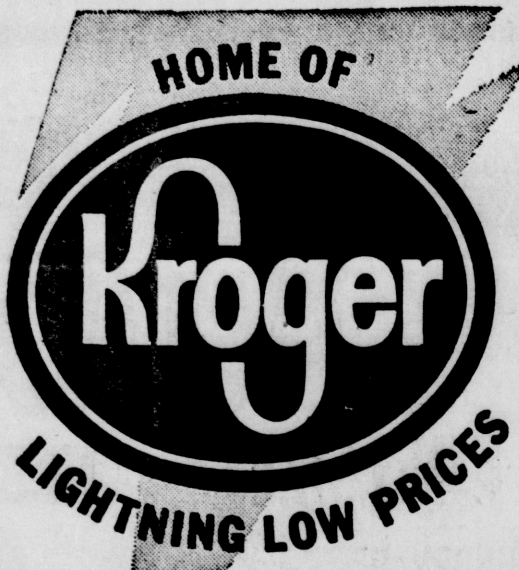

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported Tuesday that two more Ohioans have been killed in action in Vietnam. They were Army Pfc. Robert D. DeBoard, son of Minnie DeBoard, Rt. 2, Plain City and Marine 1st Lt. Andrew M. Maglance of Batavia.

He it says that the divorce bill violates the Concordat.

Baby Is Born At Dispensary

NEW YORK (AP) — An expectant mother, prevented from getting to a hospital, by the Northeast snowstorm, was rushed to the dispensary of Floyd Bennett Field. She walked the last 300 feet through four-foot drifts, then gave birth to a son. Sailors at the military air field in Brooklyn dubbed the infant "Mr. Floyd." The mother, Mrs. Frederick George, named him Rod Thomas George. Dr. Cecil Grimes, assisted by three other snow-stranded surgeons, performed the delivery. "This was better service than I expected," said Mrs. George, "but I don't expect to be back."

Camp Kilmer Is Converted Into College

EDISON, N.J. (AP) — A section of Camp Kilmer, a remnant of the "brown boot" Army that fought in World War II, is being converted into Livingston College, a branch of Rutgers University.

For thousands of World War II veterans, Camp Kilmer evokes memories of camouflaged barracks, over-loaded troop carriers, tough-as-nails sergeants, rain and mud. In its heyday, Camp Kilmer housed millions of men for few days before they were shipped to Europe.

Today, the bulk of the camp is a ghost town except for a section used as a Job Corps center. Livingston College was planned to help handle the overflow of students flocking to Rutgers, the state university. The college's planned for the Camp Kilmer area, which adjoins the university's Science Center in Piscataway Township.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alice Roosevelt Longworth, minus the ever-present cigarette but in full possession of her famous wit, turned 85 today still talking about the White House as if it were hers.

"At the moment, I seem to have become a loathsome combination of Marie Dressler and Phyllis Diller," says the only daughter of Theodore Roosevelt's first marriage in reference to a reputation for theatrics as well as acid humor.

"And," she adds, "That's the last thing I would really care to be."

Mrs. Longworth, who has known every president since Benjamin Harrison—1888-1892—will celebrate tonight in her usual manner.

Close friends and relatives will gather for dinner in the fading mansion near Washington's Dupont Circle where she has lived for 44 years among paintings, photographs, books and dusty animal skins that recall her father's Big Game days.

Wiry and energetic, Mrs. Roosevelt remains a sought-after guest and was one of the earliest invited to dinner after the Nixon's moved into the White House last month. She holds court in the afternoon at her regular teas, spends time browsing small stores and book shops, and "goes out when I have enough invitations to enjoy."

Her conversation turns often to the White House where she lived from 1901 until her marriage there in 1906 and still knows it like any of the books she reads till sunup every day. The Red Room? "I remember the gloom of the Red Room." The Green Room? "Ugh... The ugly, ugly Green Room." An oval room upstairs is that "very pretty yellow oval room, then not so pretty (in 1909)." Mrs. Longworth, whose husband Nicholas died in 1931 while speaker of the House, says she likes her days to begin "at 11 a.m. after reading all night."

Her servants come at 11, she says, "but I say 'go away' and then they come back at half past one."

Mrs. Longworth still retains much of the impishness that made her a living legend in Washington.

Impishness that prompted her to keep as a pet until recently a garter snake she called "Emma Spinach."

And impishness that also prompted one of her more famous remarks:

"If you haven't got anything nice to say about anybody, come sit here by me."

But she says she has long since given up the smoking that she took up at age 18, astonishing a capital society that frowned on women who had the habit.

"How horrifying!" she commented recently while looking at a picture of herself with a cigarette holder. But at the same time she recalled giving her distant cousin Franklin, 32nd president of the United States, the first of a series of holders that popped up in many of his pictures.

Asked who of all the presidents she found the most interesting, Mrs. Longworth said:

"I think the three we've had now. They're all so different, beginning with Kennedy, Johnson and then Nixon."

Hermit Dies; Hit By Car

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James Orsegas, a 70-year-old hermit with a thick, dark grey beard, was a familiar sight to motorists entering and leaving Pittsburgh.

They saw him in the cliffs overlooking the four-lane, high-speed Penn Lincoln Parkway. Occasionally he walked along the road, a basket slung under his arm, while the cars whizzed by.

That's all Presbyterian University Hospital officials knew because nobody—not a friend or a relative—came to see him Tuesday when he died after being hit by a car as he walked along the parkway.

There was a story that he'd once been a businessman. There was another that he had a great deal of money, that he was an accomplished musician, that he spoke five languages. None could be verified.

Hospital officials said the old man, who lived in a cave above the expressway, was wearing all he owned at the time he was killed, eight shirts and four pair of pants.

Claim Welfare Protesters Were Mostly Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Highway Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte charged Tuesday that Monday's demonstration at the Statehouse for higher welfare was composed mostly of university students.

He singled out members of the Students for Democratic Society at Ohio State University. Col. Chiaramonte said that peaceful demonstrations for persons who believe they have been wronged are permissible by law.

But "the enticement of young people not involved in the cause merely to swell the numbers and lead to possible trouble is not justifiable," he said.

More than 800 participated in the demonstration. The crowd dwindled to about 200 by nightfall when the highway patrol pushed and shoved them out of the Statehouse shortly after the 9 p. m. closing time.

Castro Uses Movies For Propaganda

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
HAVANA (AP) — Ten years of Castro government have wiped out Cuba's image as a leading producer of dirty movies and replaced it with a booming "revolutionary" film industry.

An occasional nude shot still pops up in Cuban movies today but it carries quite a different message than it did 10 years ago. It also plays to a vastly different audience.

Fidel Castro began his sweeping cleanup of Cuban movies less than three months after taking power in January 1959 by establishing the Cuban Institute of Cinema Art. It is an important political arm of the government.

"Our movie industry has, within its capacity and significance, become an integral part of the Cuban revolution in fulfillment of its revolutionary duties," said the Communist organ Granma.

"The result of 10 years of movie production makes it clear that the Cuban cinema, born with the revolution, has served not only as a narrator of the revolution but also as a protagonist."

The institute has produced 44 full or medium-length films, 204 documentaries, 77 educational films, 94 technical films, 49 animated cartoons and 435 newsreels. It also makes sure the films get distributed and shown.

With mobile projection trucks — 81 in operation at the end of 1968 — it has brought films to remote areas of Cuba where screenings were unavailable before.

The mobile units make 25-day tours, showing educational and documentary films by day and entertainment by night. To date they have given more than 363,000 showings, the institute says.

In urban areas it repairs and constructs movie houses to increase audiences. It has built 44 movie houses, repaired 59 others and has 14 under construction with repairs under way on 22 others. With little other entertainment available, movie queues are still long.

The expansion of the film industry has given jobs to dozens of young directors, cameramen, writers, editors and composers feeling their way into the business.

Nearly all the films are of a propaganda bent but there seems to be no limit on experimentation or technique as long as the message comes across.

Some of the documentaries bristle with hate for the U.S. system. Some teach the proper care of farm machinery.

The range is wide: "This Band of Ours," "Housing," "Death to the Invader," "And I Became a Teacher," "Every Factory a School," "The Forgotten War" or "Fighting in the Jungle." The last two refer respectively to Laos and Colombia.

"Ever Onward to Victory," based on the life of Ernesto Che Guevara, is currently considered the epitome of the revolutionary documentary. Institute spokesmen say it would be pointless to produce a film without a revolutionary message.

"It cannot be forgotten that every shot, every sequence, every short subject, every documentary, every newsreel has but a single theme: the Cuban revolution," Granma adds.

In feature films, however, the young moviemakers manage to give the audience plenty of action and entertainment.

Employers will spend $100 billion on employee benefits this year, ranging from private pension funds to transportation to and from work, a report compiled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reveals.

Mexico No Haven For Draft Evasion

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico may appear to some Americans as a lenient haven for U.S. draft dodgers, Army deserters, and fun-seeking hippies looking for drugs and marijuana.

But officials say Mexico is not an asylum. While the government does not emphasize police action against fugitive aliens, the Mexican agents do maintain a constant vigilance. Deportations are informally sudden.

Frequently a fugitive American who has violated Mexican laws and hospitality is escorted to a border point where U.S. authorities happen to nab him.

The Mexican officials emphasize their aim is to rid Mexico of persons who overstay six-month tourist visas, who try to find employment in violation of the visa or who violate Mexican laws in other ways.

The current estimate on U.S. citizen military deserters in Mexico trying to escape capture is about 20.

The figure has varied little in recent years, but the faces change as deserters run out of money and surrender or are picked up by Mexican police as illegal aliens.

"Visitors on a tourist card are forbidden to work in Mexico," says one official. "If a fugitive from another country has independent income he can obviously live here unless he violates Mexican law by overstaying his visa or engaging in illegal activities."

Man Is Sentenced For Tax Evasion

CHICAGO (AP) — William M. Breen, 36, Felicity, Ohio, was sentenced to one year in prison Tuesday in U. S. District Court here. Breen pleaded guilty to charges that he evaded payment of $19,000 on income of $50,170 for the years 1963 and 1964.

Breen, currently a real estate salesman in Mount Washington, Ohio, allegedly received his unreported income in kickbacks from furniture suppliers while he was a buyer for Montgomery Ward and Co. in Chicago.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 52 present at the Five Points United Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship service followed. The Youth Fellowship met at the church 6:30 Sunday evening. Rev. Maurer showed slides and told of his interesting trip to Haiti later in the evening. A large crowd attended.

Mrs. Richard Everman, Mrs. Richard Redman, Mrs. Arthur Dick and Mrs. Robert See were hostesses for the evening when the Five Points Methodist W.S.C.S. met at the church Wednesday evening for their February meeting. The president, Mrs. Paul Moore, opened the meeting with a reading, "Bless Me Heavenly Father." The roll call was answered by 18 members naming their favorite flower. Mrs. Herman Porter, secretary, read the report of the last meeting and an invitation to the Silver Tea at the Hedges Chapel Church on Feb. 22. She also read a card of appreciation from the Liston family.

The treasurer, Mrs. Francis Furniss, gave the financial report and also the yearly report. The group voted to pay for a stained glass window to be put in the classroom of the church. All members present paid dues for the coming year and plans were discussed concerning the next stock sale dinner.

Mrs. Richard Redman read for the program, "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went," and Mrs. E. L. Sheets read an article, "Remember," which proved very interesting. Mrs. Herman Porter read a Guide for the New Year and Mrs. Arthur Dick read A Man and a Tree. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Sheets and a salad course was served by the hostesses. Mrs. Clarence Finch and Mrs. Helen Phillips will be program leaders for the March meeting. Cards of cheer were signed to be sent to several shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and son Harold and Miss Laura Long were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe of near Washington

C.H. Additional evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barker and son Tony of Urbana.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas of Mt. Sterling were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Holloway and daughter Sherre of Washington C.H. were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Anderson were Saturday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Newlon Sr. of near Circleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts of near London were Sunday afternoon guests of the Andersons.

James Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Davis, returned to McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kansas Monday after spending the past week with his parents. Additional Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. Paul Ray and little son Paul of Harrisburg and Miss Joyce Ann Davis of Ohio State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Rivers were Sunday callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mrs. Lawrence Reid and children Brenda and Bradley of near Darbyville and Steve Holbrook were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rasor of Middletown were Monday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter. Jerry Rasor of Commercial Point was an additional luncheon guest of the Porters Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Dick were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dick and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rasor of Middletown, Mrs. Herman Porter and grandson Eric Dick, and Mrs. Ray Harden Jr. and son Joel of Mt. Sterling were Tuesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel.

Mrs. Cliff Holtzman and children of Grove City and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Holtzman of Columbus were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harden Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Christopher and little son Jay, Mrs. Tom Hamilton of Circleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherick and son Jeff were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Riley were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brill and son of Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conn of Reynoldsburg were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dewey and family of Circleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Dawson and son Pat of Kinnikinnick were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson.

Kelly, Keith and George Kern were Friday overnight guests of Tish and Ted Everman.

Mrs. Allen Follrod and Mrs. Paul Dawson attended the Franklin County Pomona Grange meeting at Canal Winchester Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grabill, Mr. and Mrs. James Grabill and family and Mrs. Lucy Fausnaugh of Circleville were Sunday afternoon and evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Forst and Martha in Grove City.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren
Dear John—What About Mary?

DEAR ABBY: I get sick right up to here when I hear someone pleading with us girls to be gentle with the boys in the service and above all, "NO DEAR JOHN LETTERS!"

Abby, what about the "DEAR MARY" letters WE get? Is it any easier for us to sit home for months on end, refusing dates, writing letters every day, and having nightmares when we don't get any mail for weeks. And then like a bolt out of the blue, a letter finally comes, which starts, "Dear Mary, by the time you get this I will be married—"

At this moment I can rattle off the names of 10 girls who have had this happen to them. And I head the list.

I am sick of hearing that "You're safe at home" excuse. I'm "safe at home" all right. My skunk saw to that.

(ANOTHER) DEAR MARY

DEAR ABBY: Someone ought to tell that Battalion Chaplain in Vietnam to go soak his head. (He said that girls with guys in the service should NOT write Dear John Letters.)

I imagine they aren't the greatest letters in the world to receive, but consider the alternative: Either the sweet young thing keeps writing fake love letters telling him that all is well and she will be waiting for him, or she quits writing.

The latter happened to me, and when you're expecting a letter every day and don't get it, it's like getting a "Dear John" letter every day. When a guy gets a "Dear John" at least he knows what happened. (Sign me.)

"DUMPED"

DEAR ABBY: Don't anybody talk to me about those "DEAR JOHN" letters that break a man's spirit when he's over there fighting for love, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. I've got a story of my own to tell.

My "John" went to Vietnam, and when he kissed me good-by his father had to hold him up because he was so shook he was about to faint. Eleven months later I got a letter asking me for a DIVORCE! It seems he met somebody over there. I won't go into any of the details here, but she "worked" close to him and it was "just one of those things."

I couldn't believe it, but after running up a $600 telephone bill (I didn't talk much but I sure cried a lot) I finally realized he meant it, so I talked to a lawyer and that was that.

I think my "John" could have waited to hit me with that kind of news when he got home, but he didn't. So you see, Dear Abby, there are always two sides to every coin.

THE MAJOR'S EX-WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for asking the girls back home to hold off those "Dear John" letters. I didn't get one, because the girl I left back home is still waiting for me. But I did get a letter from her mother, and here it is:

"Dear Paul:

"We are fully aware that you love Patty, and we want you to do us a favor. Please don't ask her to marry you when you come home. Patty has a good home and everything her heart desires, and I am sure she would be a very unhappy girl if she had to give it all up to live in a hole in the wall, not much money, etc.

"She may think she's in love with you, but loves flies out

Show Used To Put Huge Company Across

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER
Associated Press Writer
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Can a generous serving of GBS make TRW as well known as IBM at MIT?

This, in abbreviated form, is one question on the minds of people at TRW Inc. formerly Thompson Remo Wooldridge as they wait for final returns on "By George," a Broadway production which TRW sponsored on a tour of 40 college campuses.

There were some raised eyebrows in the corridors at TRW when plans were announced last fall to sponsor the tour of British actor Max Adrian's one-man show at a cost of around $80,000.

"By George" is actually a reading of excerpts from the works of George Bernard Shaw, who was a socialist and a critic of Big Business.

And TRW is Big Business, with sales of more than $1 billion a year in automotive, electronics and aerospace products.

The sceptics at TRW were less concerned with the Shaw philosophy than with the question of what $80,000 worth of GBS would mean in practical terms for TRW.

When the tour opened Oct. 28 on the MIT campus at Cambridge, Mass., "We heard comments from campus recruiters such as, 'What we couldn't do with $80,000!'" says William J. Moran, assistant director of corporate relations.

"By George" has made converts out of some of the sceptics.

TRW is still awaiting results of campus opinion surveys, but Moran says recruiters already can measure the effectiveness of the project in minutes—the minutes it takes to explain TRW to a potential recruit.

TRW representatives face a problem that recruiters from firms such as General Motors, General Electric and General Foods don't have—TRW has no consumer products and thus is not widely known to the general public.

"Interviewers had to spend 20 minutes explaining what TRW was," Moran noted.

But he insists that such practical matters were not in the minds of those responsible for the "By George" tour.

"There is a need to find new ways of reaching students and faculty members," said Moran.

"There is a new dimension to business and industry. I don't think the depth is really seen."

Putting Adrian's show on the road for big business was the brainchild of a New York ad agency man. When the idea was presented, "We literally jumped at the opportunity," says Robert A. Newman, director of corporate relations and public affairs.

"We wanted to knock down some of the old antibusiness campus cliches that give the youngsters of America an unfair and distorted impression of what the modern business environment is like today."

"Business has changed dramatically in recent years," says Newman. "So has the environment on college campuses, as there has been no corresponding change in the content of the methods of communications between these two interlocking institutions. There seems to be a widening communications gap here."

The tour concluded Jan. 29 at the University of Detroit, and Newman estimates that the show was seen by some 50,000 students and faculty members, although this is a guess since there were no ticket sales in most places where it was shown.

TRW took ads in campus newspapers to promote the show and took followup ads to explain why TRW got involved with "that Socialist, George Bernard Shaw" and, incidentally, to tell a little bit about the company.

"The man GBS is a mind-opener and we TRW thrive, corporately speaking, on open minds," the ad states.

Will TRW sponsor more cultural events for the campus crowd? Apparently no one will have any answers for that one until the final critical notice—the one from the opinion survey—is in.

Singer And Actress To Be Divorced
HONOLULU (AP) — Singer Jack Jones and actress Jill St. John are ending their one and a half year marriage in divorce, Jones said Monday night.

Jones, appearing at a Honolulu hotel, said a formal announcement would be made today. He said demands of his singing career and the traveling involved contributed to the breakup.

It takes an expert to grade beef!

In our great country we're lucky.

Our government trains and employs experts...men who inspect and grade beef at hundreds of locations throughout the nation. They protect you...and retailers, like us.

That's why A&P is happy there's a U.S. government inspector on the premises of our meat plant serving this area.

Also important are A&P's own beef experts. Their job is to see to it that A&P Beef measures up to our own "SUPER-RIGHT" quality standards...standards which don't exactly fit our government's grading categories.

For instance, some beef graded U.S. Choice just doesn't meet our "SUPER-RIGHT" specifications.

Warriors Win NBA Clash, Houston Victor In ABA Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The best things in life were free for Jeff Mullins, Nate Thurmond and the San Francisco Warriors in the last minute of Tuesday night's National Basketball Association struggle at Atlanta.

Mullins and Thurmond combined for five clutch free throws in the final 60 seconds, giving the Warriors a 92-87 victory over hometown Hawks.

Atlanta stormed back from a 13-point deficit and drew within two on a basket by Paul Silas before Thurmond hit twice from the foul line for the Warriors. Then Mullins put in three more freebies, offsetting the Hawks' last two-pointers.

In other NBA games, Baltimore topped Chicago 124-116 and Philadelphia drubbed Cincinnati 129-112.

In the American Basketball Association, Houston upended

Oakland 101-100, Minnesota downed Kentucky 115-105, Denver tripped Miami 108-98 and Dallas defeated New Orleans 104-98. The Indiana at New York ABA game was postponed because of bad weather.

Mullins finished with 34 points to lead San Francisco past the Hawks. Thurmond hit for 26, controlled the boards and limited Atlanta pivotman Zelmo Beaty to two points. Silas had 22 and Ohl 20 for the Hawks.

Earl Monroe scored 13 points and reserve Ed Manning nine in a last quarter burst that carried Baltimore past the Bulls.

The victory boosted the Bulls' Eastern Division lead over the New York to three games and kept them 3½ games up on third place Philadelphia.

Monroe finished with 33 points for Baltimore. Jerry Sloan put in 27 for the Bulls.

Hal Greer and Billy Cunningham teamed up for 22 points as the 76ers outscored Cincinnati 40-29 in the third quarter and pulled away from the Royals at Cleveland.

Cunningham wound up with 31 points, three more than Greer. Adrian Smith was high for the Royals with 22, including 14 in the last quarter.

Ohio State Whips Purdue, 88-85

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don't look now, but the Big Ten basketball race is taking on all the aspects of another blazing finish.

Ohio State's No. 16-ranked Buckeyes, deeply involved in last year's torrid climax, did their bit Tuesday night to make this year's outcome just as dramatic, surviving a 35-point shelling by sensational Rick Mount of No. 8 Purdue for an 88-85 upset at Columbus.

That not only avenged a thrilling 95-85 overtime loss at Purdue 10 days before, but also moved the Buckeyes to within just one game of the frontrunning Boilermakers, who suffered their first league setback in seven starts. Ohio State is 5-2.

Meanwhile, No. 10 Illinois was sabotaged at Michigan 92-87 and dropped into a third-place tie with Iowa. The Illini had been tied with Ohio State for second.

And, No. 19 Baylor added to the night's list of casualties, falling before unheralded Rice 75-73. However, The Associated Press' only other Top 20 team in action, No. 6 Davidson coasted past Richmond 114-85.

Ohio State had to shake off a Mount-led rally to claim the triumph which the Bucks hope could lead to a repetition of last year's title chase. Ohio State backed into a share of the 1968 crown on the closing day of the season, then beat co-champ Iowa in a playoff for the right to go on to the NCAA.

The Boilermakers trailed by 10 points much of the second half, but shot into a 76-76 tie with 3:27 left. But, Buckeye Jody Finney, who had a career high 28 points, hit a long set shot and teammate Dave Sorenson followed shortly with a three-point play that gave the Bucks control the rest of the way.

The 6-foot-4 Mount, leading shooter in the Big Ten, canned 16 of 27 field goal tries, including 10 of 13 in the second half.

"I've never seen Mount work harder with the basketball," commented Buckeye Coach Fred Taylor. "He is the best outside shooter I've ever seen in the Big Ten. The thing that amazes me the most about him is his quick release. I don't know how he got some of his shots."

"There is no question we had to win this game," he added.

Illinois made up a 10-point deficit midway through the second half, then blew the whole thing in the final minute as its league record dropped to 4-3.

The Illini had an 87-84 lead with a minute left, when Dennis Stewart hit two consecutive jumpers to put the Wolverines ahead for good.

Rudy Tomjanovich led the winners with 37 points, while Greg Jackson, a 6-foot-8 sophomore, topped Illinois with 29.

Mice Maloy scored 32 points and hauled in 13 rebounds to spark Davidson past Southern Conference foe Richmond. He scored 13—including nine in a row—when the Wildcats outscored Richmond 23-9 during one stretch in the first half to take a commanding lead.

Lowly Rice held Baylor scoreless during the final 41 seconds while Greg Williams hit a basket, Bob Rule two free throws and Steve Wendel one charity shot to knock the Bears out of a share of the Southwest Conference lead.

Texas A&M, meanwhile, took over sole possession of first when Ron Peret hit two free throws with seven seconds left in the overtime session for a 70-69 victory over Texas. It was Texas A&M's fourth one-point victory in the league this season.

Southern Methodist climbed into a tie for second with Baylor by beating Texas Tech 84-65.

Michigan State knocked off

Notre Dame with surprising ease, 71-59.

In other games, Iowa whipped Northwestern 84-80 in overtime, Wisconsin stopped Minnesota 69-63, Missouri defeated Nebraska 79-60, Arkansas topped Texas Christian 63-47 and Drake whipped North Texas State 91-67.

Also, it was Western Michigan 85, Marshall 74; Virginia Tech 68, Virginia 64; Old Dominion 80, William & Mary 65; Boston College 70, Rhode Island 62; NYU 87, Lehigh 70, and Holy Cross 97, Massachusetts 68 behind Ed Siudut's 36 points.

Penske Racing Team In Front

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Round-faced, crew cut Mark Donohue could become the most overworked man in auto racing this year—if, indeed, he isn't already.

The 30-year-old driver-engineer from Media, Pa., is the star of the Roger Penske racing team. Last year he won 17 of the 25 professional road races he entered, garnered two national titles and counted at least $100,000 in winnings.

Flushed with that success, the team plans an all-out assault in four major divisions of motorsports this season. By winning the recent 24-Hours of Daytona the team already has taken a giant step that could bring Penske his first World Manufacturer's Championship.

Penske, a wealthy Pennsylvanian and former driver, has hooked up with Lola Cars, Ltd., of Britain for the 1969 campaign and his ambitious program includes:

—A new four-wheel drive Lola-Chevrolet for the Indianapolis 500 and half a dozen USAC championship road races.

—A new Group 4 Lola coupe. The car won the 24-Hours of Daytona and is entered next in the 12-hours of Sebring in March—the only two U.S. races which count toward the manufacturer's trophy won last year by Ford of Britain.

If the car wins at Sebring, Penske will have to decide whether he'll campaign in Europe, including LeMans in June.

"If we win at Sebring," says Donohue, "we'll certainly have to consider the European events."

—A T-142 Formula A Lola that will compete in the Sports Car Club of America's new professional formula series for open cockpit cars. This series is only a step away from the world Grand Prix circuit.

Penske, who retired from the cockpit several years ago after becoming one of America's most publicized non-Indianapolis drivers, will have the advice of cagy Eric Broadley, a retiring Englishman whose fragile Lolas long have been among the winners.

Neither Penske nor Donohue will outline their connection with general Motors, the biggest of the auto makers and the only one which ostensibly does not underwrite motor sports competition.

But those in the business point out that the Penske-Donohue team has stuck strictly to Chevrolet power to become one of the most successful operations in auto racing.

Tiger Frosh Top Miami Trace, 41-35

The Circleville freshman defeated Miami Trace, 41-35, Tuesday on the Panthers' floor.

It was the fourth win in a row for the Tiger frosh and their seventh of the season compared to four losses.

Rick Blankenship gained scoring laurels in the game, tossing in eight field goals and three foul shots for 19. Don Valentine scored 13 for the winners.

Miami Trace led 10-9 at the end of the first quarter. Circleville took a one point lead, 21-20, into the locker room at halftime. The score was deadlocked 30-30 at the end of three periods.

IN the final quarter the Tigers made only one field goal but sank nine foul shots to gain the win.

Shortly after the third quarter began, Circleville was down by four points. But Terry Morrison came off the bench, stealing the ball twice. The Tigers scored on both turnovers.

Circleville made 13 of 18 shots at the foul line, a 72 per cent average. Trace converted five of 10.

Thursday the Tigers host Lancaster Thomas Ewing. The junior high game is scheduled at 4:15 p.m. and the freshman game at about 5:15.

2 Major Upsets Marked In Tennis

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — The first two major upsets of the 66th U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships were recorded Tuesday when defending champ Cliff Richey and New Zealand's Brian Frailie were eliminated.

Ismael El Shafel of the United Arab Republic took a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Richey, the No. 4 domestic seed from San Angelo, Tex.

Boston Bruins Hit By Injuries

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins' injury list is growing almost as rapidly as Phil Esposito's point total as the leaders of the East Division of the National Hockey League continue to roll along.

Tuesday's 7 - 3 victory over Chicago was costly. Center Derek Sanderson stretched ligaments in his left knee during the second period and Coach Harry Sinden estimates he will be out for at least 10 days.

Sanderson will be keeping with good company on the sidelines with Bruins' Bobby Orr, John McKenzie and Ron Murphy all nursing a variety of ailments.

Bill Shoemaker Is Back; Has 3 Wins At Santa Anita

By BOB MYERS
Jockey Bill Shoemaker was quite correct when he said, "I guess I couldn't have written a script any better than the way it turned out."

The once-silent Shoe could not have written it any better and the way it turned out was that after an absence of almost 13 months from the racetrack to let a broken leg mend, Shoemaker accepted three mounts at Santa Anita track and won all three races. Each was the second choice of the betting public. Shoemaker has long since established himself as one of the great riders in turf history. But for high drama, for the almost incredible, this performance must rate high.

He started the cloudy afternoon with a 2 length victory in the sixth race on Princess Endeavour. It was his first start since the spill that sidelined him at Santa Anita Jan. 23, 1968.

"Sure," the Shoe admitted, "I was a little on edge going into the gate, but that's natural, I think."

Came the eighth, the feature race. It was Shoemaker and Racing Room by 1¼ lengths. And for an added touch Racing Room equaled the track record of 1:15 flat for 6½ furlongs set in 1965 by Wil Rad—ridden by Bill Shoemaker.

Two straight in the comeback. Few thought he could make it a triple. But it was Jay's Double, Shoemaker up, by three-quarters of a length in the ninth.

Princess Endeavour paid $7.80, Racing Room $5 and Jay's Double $8.20.

"The leg felt fine, no problems at all," said Shoemaker. "I felt a little wobbly but it's just a matter of getting fit. My timing was off a little bit but that will come, too."

He has now ridden 5,781 winners, second only to retired Johnny Longden's 6,032. But ride number 23,255 on Endeavour has a place in Shoemaker's memory.

Bruins Batter Black Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Up, up and away goes Phil Esposito.

The slick Boston center tacked five more points on his National Hockey League scoring lead Tuesday night, scoring twice and assisting on three others goals as the Bruins battered Chicago 7-3.

In the only other NHL game played, Montreal whipped Los Angeles 7-3 with Jean Beliveau scoring four goals.

Teays Valley Youth Baseball Board Meets

The Teays Valley Youth Baseball League met at the home of Marvin Hicks with Marvin Hicks presiding.

George Forquer was elected president for the current year with Ron Althaus serving as vice president and John Pabst as secretary-treasurer.

The league agreed to discontinue to sponsor girls softball for this year and also changed the status of the mosquito leagues and little leagues.

Boys 7-8-9 will play in mosquito league this year while boys 10-11-12 will play in little league. The league agreed to leave the way open for a boy to move up to the next league or down depending on his ability.

Managers and officials of the league will decide whether a boy should move up or down upon request of the parents. Ways of raising money were also discussed as the league operated in the red last year.

Next meeting was scheduled Feb. 20 at Ashville Council House. First registration for all participants will take place, Sat., March 1 at Teays Valley High School from 9 a.m. noon.
